

Act No. 146 (H.809). Conservation and land development; municipal government; historic downtown development; new town centers; growth centers

An act relating to designation of new town centers and growth centers

This act amends the statutes for designating new town centers and growth centers to clarify the designation process and revise the requirements necessary to qualify for designation.

The act also makes changes to the municipal and regional land use planning statutes to better integrate the land use planning process with the process for designating areas such as downtowns, new town centers, and growth centers.

The act further specifies the content that is required in a notice of violation of a municipal land use bylaw or permit.
