As healthy and happy consumers of raw milk for over 25 years, we are writing to plead that raw milk will continue to be available unhindered by arbitrary limitations regarding quantity and location of sale.

Our dairy farmers are motivated to produce safe and high-quality milk primarily by the pride they take in their work and the health of their animals, and possibly even by concern for their own health, as they are not only producers but also consumers of the same milk they are sharing with their customers. But if these aren't motivations enough, there also is the knowledge that a single case of illness from that milk would undermine the essential trust of the community with devastating effects on their businesses. These assurances continue to bolster our confidence that the safety of milk that we obtain from our local dairy farmer cannot be improved upon by any additional rules or restrictions. We look forward to the day when we can say the same about a melon or a package of ground beef sold at the local grocery store.

Please do not hesitate to contact us with any questions.

Sincerely,
Mitchell R. Miller MD
