

Suggestions from Barbara Cimaglio

In the new Sections (g):

(g) The Secretary of Human Services, with staff and administrative support from the Criminal Justice Core Team, shall map services and assess the impact of court referrals and the capacity of the current service provision system in each region. The Secretary, in collaboration with service providers and other stakeholders, shall consider regional resources, including services for assessment, early intervention, treatment, and recovery support. Building on existing models and data, the Secretary and the Criminal Justice Core Team shall develop recommendations for a system for referral to appropriate level of need, identifying existing gaps to optimize successful outcomes. Funding models for those services shall be examined by the appropriate State departments.
