(b) If an employee’s absence is shorter than a normal workday, the employee shall use earned sick time accrued pursuant to section 482 of this subchapter in the smallest time increments that the employer’s payroll system uses to account for other absences or that the employer’s paid time off policy permits. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to require an employer to permit an employee to use earned sick time in increments that are shorter than one hour.

(c) An employer may limit the amount of earned sick time accrued pursuant to section 482 of this subchapter that an employee may use to:

(2) If, at an employer’s discretion, an employer pays an employee for unused earned sick time accrued pursuant to section 482 of this subchapter at the end of an annual period, then the amount for which the employee was compensated does not carry over to the next annual period.

(g) An employer shall not require an employee to find a replacement for absences, including absences for professional diagnostic, preventive, routine, or therapeutic health care.

(h) An employer may require an employee planning to take earned sick time accrued pursuant to section 482 of this subchapter to:

(2) notify the employer as soon as practicable of the intent to take earned sick time accrued pursuant to section 482 of this subchapter and the expected duration of the employee’s absence.

(i) (1) If an employee is absent from work for one of the reasons listed in subsection (a) of this section, the employee shall not be required to use earned sick time accrued pursuant to section 482 of this subchapter and the employer will not be required to pay for the time that the employee was absent if the employer and the employee mutually agree that either:

(A) the employee will work an equivalent number of hours as the number of hours for which the employee is absent during the same pay period; or

(B) the employee will trade hours with a second employee so that the second employee works during the hours for which the employee is absent and the employee works an equivalent number of hours in place of the second employee during the same pay period.

(2) Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prevent an employer from adopting a policy that requires an employee to use earned sick time accrued pursuant to section 482 of this subchapter for an absence from work for one of the reasons set forth in subsection (a) of this section.

(j) An employer shall post notice of the provisions of this section in a form provided by the Commissioner in a place conspicuous to employees at the employer’s place of business. An employer shall also notify an employee of the provisions of this section at the time of the employee’s hiring.

(k) An employee who uses earned sick time accrued pursuant to section 482 of this subchapter shall not diminish his or her rights under sections 472 and 472a of this title.

(l) The provisions against retaliation set forth in section 397 of this title shall apply to this subchapter.

(m) An employer who violates this subchapter shall be subject to the penalty provisions of section 345 of this title.

§ 484. COMPLIANCE WITH EARNED SICK TIME REQUIREMENT
(a) An employer shall be in compliance with this subchapter if either of the following occurs:

(1) The employer offers a paid time off policy or is a party to a collective bargaining agreement that provides the employee with paid time off from work that:

   (A) he or she may use for all of the reasons set forth in subsection 483(a) of this subchapter; and

   (B) accrues and may be used at a rate that is equal to or greater than the rate set forth in sections 482 and 483 of this subchapter.

(2) The employer offers a paid time off policy or is a party to a collective bargaining agreement that provides the employee with at least the full amount of paid time off from work required pursuant to sections 482 and 483 of this subchapter at the beginning of each annual period and the employee may use it at any time during the annual period for the reasons set forth in subsection 483(a) of this subchapter. If the employer provides an employee with the full amount of paid time off at the beginning of each annual period, the paid time off shall not carry over from one annual period to the next as provided in subdivision 483(d)(1) of this subchapter.

(b) Nothing in this subchapter shall be construed to require an employer that satisfies the requirements of subsection (a) of this section to provide additional earned sick time to an employee that chooses to use paid time off that could be used for the reasons set forth in subdivisions 483(a)(1)–(5) of this subchapter for a different purpose.

(c) Nothing in this subchapter shall be construed to prevent an employer from providing a paid time off policy or agreeing to a collective bargaining agreement that provides a paid time off policy that is more generous than the earned sick time provided by this subchapter.

(d)(1) Nothing in this subchapter shall be construed to diminish an employer’s obligation to comply with any collective bargaining agreement or paid time off policy that provides greater earned sick time rights than the rights provided by this subchapter.

(2) Nothing in this subchapter shall be construed to preempt or override the terms of a collective bargaining agreement that is in effect before January 1, 2017.

(e) A collective bargaining agreement or paid time off policy may not diminish the rights provided by this subchapter.

§ 485. SEVERABILITY OF PROVISIONS
If any provision of this subchapter or the application of such provision to any person or circumstances shall be held invalid, the remainder of the subchapter and the application of such provisions to persons or circumstances other than those as to which it is held invalid shall not be affected thereby.

§ 486. NEW EMPLOYER EXEMPTION

(a) Notwithstanding any provision of this subchapter to the contrary, new employers shall not be subject to the provisions of this subchapter for a period of one year after the employer hires its first employee.

(b) For purposes of enforcement under subsections 483(l)–(n) of this subchapter, an employer shall be presumed to be subject to the provisions of this subchapter unless the employer proves that a period of no more than one year elapsed between the date on which the employer hired its first employee and the date on which the employer is alleged to have violated the provisions of this subchapter.

(c) No employer shall transfer an employee to a second employer with whom there is, at the time of the transfer, substantially common ownership, management, or control for the purposes of either employer claiming an exemption pursuant to subsection (a) of this section.

Sec. 5. 21 V.S.A. § 345 is amended to read:

§ 345. NONPAYMENT OF WAGES AND BENEFITS

(a) Each employer who violates sections 342, 343, 342, 343, 482, and 483 of this title shall be fined not more than $5,000.00. Where the employer is a corporation, the president or other officers who have control of the payment operations of the corporation shall be considered employers and liable to the employee for actual wages due when the officer has willfully and without good cause participated in knowing violations of this chapter.

Rep. Berry of Manchester explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

I voted ‘yes’ because it is a balanced compromise. It has been advocated for by Vermont Businesses for Social Responsibility and Main Street Alliance. Absent amendments I feel the Senate bill adequately reflects my reasoned evaluation that it strikes a balance between the modest and incremental approach helpful to the business community with the clear need to offer assurances to employees that their wellness and safety and that of their children and families will be more compassionately addressed. This bill moves in the direction of creating a more moral economy for those workers in greatest need.”

Rep. Botzow of Pownal explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

My vote reflects my understanding that a more flexible workplace will make for a better labor market for employees and employers.”

Rep. Connor of Fairfield explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

I represent three towns and some four thousand constituents, many of whom are under-employed in that, in order to provide for themselves and their families, they must work second and third jobs. I have heard from dozens and dozens of single parents who have to make a decision every time a child is sick. Do I send my child to school sick or do I risk losing my job when I call out to my employers? I have heard from folks who must decide if they care for themselves or another family member. Some have reached out because they were not able to be with a dying family member. I heard from a number of teachers who begged me to support this bill so that a sick child does not come to school sick and pass the sickness on to other students and even the teacher. I voted for H.187 to honor the requests from my constituents.

Far fewer constituents reached out to me asking that I not support this legislation. I believe the General, Military and Housing Committee did their due diligence in vetting H.187. I truly believe that every working Vermonter, young or old, should be provided the opportunity to care for themselves and or a member of their family. H.187 is a step in the direction that demonstrates that the employee is both valued and supported by their employer.

Vermont employers who invest in their employees by offering paid time off for illness and safety are demonstrating to the folks who work for him or her that they value their employee and their family. Employers who offer this benefit and others understand that a happy content employee is less expensive in the long haul.

I was raised in a large extended family with many family businesses and we were taught to care for one another. It was instilled in each of us that you get along far better with a healthy dose of honey than vinegar.”

Rep. Eastman of Orwell explained her vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

Without a small business exemption, this vote confirms to me that my minimal pay of $18,000 per year, my first three years of start up with my business, doesn’t matter and this further confirms that it is OK for the families of small business employers to starve as long as they are taking care of others. I, like many small business owners, sacrificed much and worked 60 – 80 hours a week to build my business to where it is today. TODAY I am proud to be able to afford to offer paid leave in my place of business. It just took time to get there. I am not against paid leave, but have recognized both through my work and personal experience that it takes time for some new and small businesses to be viable and have the ability to offer such benefits.”

Rep. Pearson of Burlington explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

In a state where total payroll exceeds $15 billion, a tiny fraction of that going to keep many of our workers, often those working for low-wage jobs, the chance to stay healthy and productive is a sensible investment.”

Rep. Hubert of Milton explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

I vote ‘no’ today not because workers do not need time off but for the mounting costs we have and will add to business. We will be adding higher fees this year and higher minimum wage this year as well as next year.

This bill will cost small business between $2.8 to $6.3 million.

We are taking away the owners’ wishes to put a package that works for both the owner and employees.
It seems government knows better how to run small than the owner.”

Rep. Komline of Dorset explained her vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

A vote for this bill is a vote against our fledgling and small businesses, businesses that are struggling with minimum wage increase, ever-increasing fees, a weak economy and a terrible tourist season.

We should be focusing efforts on empowering Vermonters so they don’t need to depend on low skill jobs. We should be providing improved entrepreneurial tools and training for jobs with career growth potential.

These efforts should be our top priority.

We have to make sure we aren’t passing laws that make us feel good rather than taking steps to actually do good.”

Rep. Lewis of Berlin explained her vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

I vote ‘no’ on this bill, not because I don’t support paid sick leave, but because it is not the State’s job to dictate what benefits an employer should offer. Businesses know what they can provide and should have the freedom to choose. The majority of employers in this state do provide paid leave.

As I spoke last year on this bill, I mentioned a constituent who stated he did not have sick leave. But what he did have was health, dental and optical insurance, HSA, long and short-term disability, vacation and 401K. There is much more to this story and that has not been considered in this bill.”

Rep. McFaun of Barre Town explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

Thank you, Mr. Speaker. I voted ‘no’ on H.187 although I support employees getting sick leave, because I do not feel we got it right with this H.187. There are too many unanswered questions that I am sure will lead to unintended consequences.”

Rep. Mrowicki of Putney explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

My vote is for the children who will benefit, for the parents who work outside the home who need this provision and for the businesses who contacted me to ask that we level the playing field so those who do provide these benefits get a fair deal when competing against businesses that don’t. This bill is good for Vermont and helps create a better, brighter future for our kids, families and businesses.”

Rep. Purvis of Colchester explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

I voted ‘no’ because this is another reason for a small business to say I’m ‘sick’ of all of their mandates and move to the live free and don’t die of high taxes state next door. A high tech company in my district which employs over 200 wrote me to say they are contemplating this move.”

Rep. Russell of Rutland City explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

My intention in the first version of legislation to leave this house was to lift my Rutland City constituents who go to work faithfully each day and play by the rules, these Vermonters contribute greatly to the fabric of our state’s economy and community. This action will only serve to strengthen the relationship between employer and employee, as well as with job recruitment. I proudly vote yes for working Vermonters.”

Rep. Turner of Milton explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

The joint fiscal office estimates that this unfunded mandate with a cost to Vermont private employers estimated to be $2.8-$6.3 million in 2018 and between $4.8-$11 million dollars annually thereafter. This body has passed several pieces of legislation this biennium which place additional burdens on Vermont employers. However, it has taken little to no action to improve the economic climate which will allow business to prosper and Vermont's economy to grow. Maybe it's time we start!”

Rep. Wright of Burlington explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

I vote ‘no’ because once again, the legislature foists a mandate on business in Vermont, with no exemption for small business. Spin it however you want, this is another hit on small business in Vermont.”

Rep. Van Wyck of Ferrisburgh explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

I voted ‘no.’ Please add Mom and Pop country stores to the list of threatened and endangered businesses for the ones that are left. Rural Vermont loses again.”
Rep. Yantachka of Charlotte explained his vote as follows:

“Mr. Speaker:

I vote ‘yes’ on this bill. There is no doubt that there is a cost to business, large or small, to provide paid sick days to its qualified employees. Businesses routinely make investments in equipment that provides a benefit to their operation. Employees provide a benefit to their employers as well. Providing earned paid sick leave, a mere three days a year, should be considered a worthwhile investment by an employer in their business as well as in their employees.”
