Blow the roof off your education!

Design Your Own Learning

Blow the ROOF off your education

The Student at the center

At Big Picture, you design your own projects based on the things you care about.

Want to learn geometry?

Design a Tiny House.

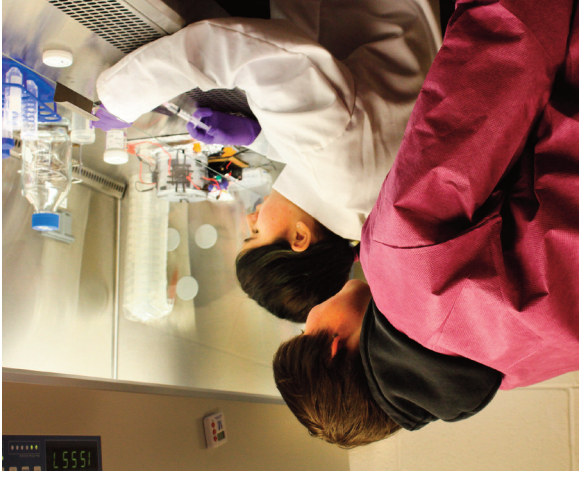

How about Music? Record an EP.

Concerned about Food?

Start a Community Garden.

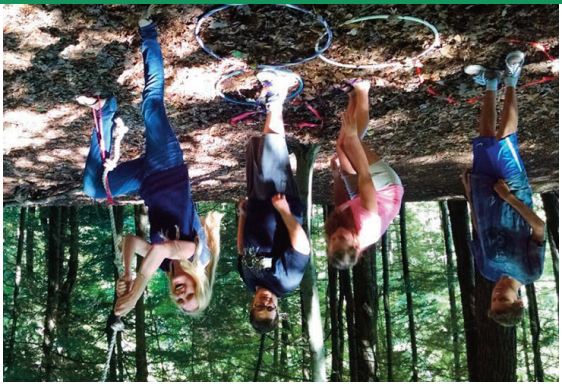

Don't let walls and ceilings get in the way of your education. Get real world experience by tapping into our network of internships or reaching out to someone on your own.

The limits are what you make them.

At Big Picture, the students are the teachers. When we're not busy working, we're learning from each other and our community - all the while becoming better students, mentors, and friends.
