

Vermont Council on Domestic Violence Basic Information

Council Purpose

The Vermont Council on Domestic Violence provides leadership for Vermont's statewide effort to eradicate domestic violence. The Council facilitates opportunities for dialogue, advocacy, education and support among state agencies, advocacy groups, and the public.

History of the Vermont Governor's Council on Domestic Violence

The Governor's Council on Domestic Violence was created in 1993 by Governor Howard Dean and Chief Justice Frederic W. Allen. The Council was charged with serving the community domestic violence task forces in their efforts to eliminate family violence by facilitating the coordination of services, information and education. The Council provided a forum for the discussion of strategies for improving the statewide coordinated response to domestic violence and addressing systemic obstacles to victim safety and offender accountability.

Vermont Council on Domestic Violence In Vermont Statute

In 2008, the Vermont Legislature re-created the Council. Vermont Statute 15 VSA chapter 21, subchapter 4, 1171-1173 created the Vermont Council on Domestic Violence with broad representation from state and community stakeholders in order to coordinate statewide responses to domestic violence, and give the Council expansive authority and responsibility.

The Council's mission has been carefully crafted to include specific duties.

Council Structure

The Council is staffed by a part-time coordinator. Two Co-Chairs support the Council's success in performing its purpose and responsibilities.

The Council has standing committees to carry out its duties, including the Consultation Committee, Domestic Violence Accountability Committee, Judicial Caucus, Domestic Violence Task Committee, Legislative Committee, Supervised Visitation Services Committee, and the Domestic Violence and the Workplace Committee.

A part-time Domestic Violence Accountability Coordinator supports the Council's connection with the Vermont Coalition of Domestic Accountability Programs and the Department of Corrections, and oversees the process of certifying Domestic Violence Accountability Programs.

A part-time Supervised Visitation Services Coordinator supports the Council's connection with the Vermont Coalition of Supervised Visitation Programs, and coordinates the work of the Supervised Visitation Services Committee.
