

The Secretary of State’s Office of Professional Regulation (OPR) protects the public through licensing and enforcement programs for 46 professions and 60,000 licensees.

The OPR is efficiently funded through Special Fund dollars raised through reasonable licensing fees WITH NO IMPACT ON GENERAL FUND DOLLARS. While the funding comes along with new professions and new fees, the positions do not and must be authorized.

Each year, the Legislature contemplates and occasionally adds more professions to OPR without additional staff needed to appropriately administer these programs.

Over time, OPR has used creative restructuring and advancements in technology to remain roughly the same size as it was 10 years ago, despite increasing the number of licensees by 50% from 40,000 to 60,000 and doubling the number of complaints it handles from 400 to 800 per year.

OPR is operating efficiently. In fact, we are LOWERING fees for four professions this year. However, license application and complaint processing times will suffer if more positions are not authorized. Public protection will be compromised on these important programs.

These are the 9 professions slated for regulation by OPR, with the workload projections for each:

Profession	Number of Licensees	Application Complexity	Enforcement Issues
Property Inspectors (2014)	150-200	Medium	High
Speech Language Pathologists	525	High	Low
Audiologists	80	High	Low
Dental Therapists	20	Medium	High
Foresters	100 - 200	Medium	High
Behavior Analysts	60	Medium	Medium
Notaries	20,000	Low	Low
Massage Therapists	200-250	Unknown	Low
Alcohol/Drug Abuse Counselor	500	High	High

The Administration’s budget does include the addition of one position, an Assistant Director of OPR, and we have also identified and discussed a second position, a Research and Statistical Analyst, with House and Senate Appropriations as an immediate need based on the current state of OPR.

The Research and Statistical Analyst position is a critical support position for all professions that is particularly helpful for onboarding new professions and getting new programs up and running while also supporting the sunrise review work we do every year to make sure that proposals for licensing are well vetted and consistent with the Legislature’s established policies on when to regulate a profession.

An Enforcement position is also necessary to maintain levels of service and public protection with increased enforcement activities from new licensees.

- Assistant Director (PG27) – currently in the Budget Bill
- Research and Statistical Analyst (PG19)
- Enforcement (PG TBD)

OPR is completely funded through Special Funds. Adding positions will have NO IMPACT ON THE GENERAL FUND. Because they are funded with new licensing fees for new professions, there is no downside to adding these positions. As brand new positions, they do not come from the position pool.
