

Speak with library staff about talking face-to-face via videoconferencing

WHAT:

Videoconferencing using Google Hangout, Skype or other free applications! Allows two or more locations to communicate through video and audio transmissions.

WHO:

Anyone! No library card needed. This service is free and open to the public.

HOW:

Contact the library to get information on availability of training and equipment.

Videoconferencing connects people

- » Videoconferencing equipment on site.
- » Training by library staff to improve user experiences.

List of participating Vermont libraries

- » Martha Canfield Library, Arlington
- » Bradford Public Library, Bradford
- » Brooks Memorial Library, Brattleboro
- » Fletcher Free Library, Burlington
- » Cobleigh Public Library, Lyndonville
- » Ilsley Public Library, Middlebury
- » Kellogg-Hubbard Library, Montpelier
- » Centennial Library, Morrisville
- » Goodrich Memorial Library, Newport
- » Rutland Free Library, Rutland
- » St Albans Free Library, St Albans
- » Dorothy Alling Memorial Library, Williston
- » Norman Williams Library, Woodstock
- » Hartland Public Library, Hartland

Potential uses for videoconferencing in the public library

» Participate in online training or meetings.

» Connect with an expert to show them a problem.

» Bring an author to the library for a book club discussion.

» Broadcast a library event to YouTube.

» Interview for a job.

» Connect with family in up to ten places at once.

» Meet colleagues
across the county.

brought to you by:
Videoconferencing

VIDEOCONFERENCING

Your

World

Connected