

North Country Career Center

Preparing Students for Career, College and Community

Portrait of a North Country Career Center Student

A Career Center Student is Career Ready when:

- They hold themselves accountable regarding their actions and choices
- They have good employability skills; they are honest, reliable, dependable, on-time, dressed appropriately and ready to work in their chosen field
- They have respect for themselves and others
- They believe in Team Building and Collaboration and when appropriate exhibit Leadership qualities
- They are familiar with Information Communication Technology and use technology appropriately
- They are aware of the various requirements and safety procedures for their chosen career field
- They take into account their own aptitudes and abilities when setting career goals

A Career Center student is College Ready when:

- They are literate in English language skills, math, science and social studies
- They are organized and aware of time management
- They are good communicators and can lobby for themselves
- They have good research and writing skills
- They are socially and emotionally developed and have good interpersonal skills
- They make healthy choices and have healthy lifestyles
- They are aware of financial literacy and how it effects their decisions
- They have a financial plan, or an awareness of a need for one for the future
- They know their own strengths and limitations

A Career Center Student is Community Ready when:

- They are service oriented
- They are honest and ethical
- They are accepting of other's differences
- They participate in their community government or initiatives
- They strive for community growth
- They have a global awareness of issues
- They put others above themselves

Adopted October 2012