Re: AVIC Member Student Records

There are a number of different systems for keeping student records:

- Out of 18 colleges, 10 have complete digital student records.
- Two institutions have digital records for students beginning in 2000. Earlier records are not digital. They have no plans to scan earlier records.
- One institution's current records are digital, but older ones are not. They do plan to eventually have all records in a digital form.
- Another's are digital back to 1911 for most of their programs, but other programs are digital to 1991 or back to the 1960s.
- Lastly, one institution maintains paper records for students for 7 years and after that they become digital records.
