

Megan Favreau:

"I am the mother of a girl of color. I also am a wife of a law enforcement officer. My husband and I have already started to plan how to speak with our daughter (age 1) about interactions with law enforcement due to the color of her skin. While we personally realize the challenges of law enforcement it's imperative that all officers and all branches of law enforcement are held to a standard in which racism and implicit bias are not tolerated."
