SUBJECT: An introduction to the ACLU-VT's 2017-18 goals and priorities

What is the American Civil Liberties Union of Vermont (ACLU-VT)?

ACLU-VT is a non-profit advocacy and public education organization dedicated to defending the constitutional and civil rights of Vermonters. In a variety of subject matter areas, we seek to strengthen the liberties enshrined in the United States and Vermont Constitutions through lobbying, litigation, and public education.ⁱ

What are the ACLU-VT's priorities for Vermont?

- 1) Criminal Justice Reform: Despite substantial progress in recent years, Vermont still has work to do to reduce incarceration and protect people's freedom. The ACLU-VT is joining the national Campaign for Smart Justice to win lasting criminal justice reform – including police oversight, fair treatment of low-income communities and people of color, and an end to mass incarceration.
- 2) Privacy: Protecting Vermonters' right to privacy amidst technological advancements and the proliferation of law enforcement surveillance tools.
- 3) Open and Accountable Government: Strengthening the democratic process by holding public officials and bodies to the highest standards – modernizing open meetings law, enhancing access to public records,ⁱⁱ strict conflict of interest rules, candidate financial disclosures, and a state ethics commission.
- 4) Protecting Vulnerable Populations: Defending the most vulnerable among us – children, low-income families, homeless individuals, minority religious faiths, people with disabilities, immigrants, among others – to ensure that constitutional and civil rights are enjoyed by all Vermont residents.
