Rep. Chesnut-Tangerman of Middletown Springs explained his vote as follows:

“Madam Speaker:

This bill is a perfect example of our work never being done. Is there more to do? Certainly. Is the bill perfect? Certainly not. But this bill does make considered and needed steps in an area that is guaranteed to aggravate everybody at some point.”

Rep. Dolan of Waitsfield explained her vote as follows:

“Madam Speaker:

I support the bill’s attention to the challenges facing Vermont now and over the next 50 years. I support the added protections for intact forests and for making Vermont’s communities more resilient to flooding and other impacts from a changing climate.”

Rep. Donahue of Northfield explained her vote as follows:

“Madam Speaker:

Act 250 provides vital protections to our state. This bill has good elements, but also opens the door to new issues that will add to the complexity, and the lack of consistency and predictability, that have dogged Act 250 for so long. Today's amendments narrowed some of those doors, but not enough to convince me that the positive elements outweigh the many new burdens it will create. This is not an Act 250 reform bill."

Rep. McCullough of Williston explained his vote as follows:

"Madam Speaker:

Governor Dean C. Davis is a personal friend of mine and a Vermont hero, moving Act 250's landmark legislation. I am grateful for the opportunity to help craft Act 250's next generation and voting yes today."

Rep. Rogers of Waterville explained her vote as follows:

"Madam Speaker:

I voted yes out of appreciation for the additional exemptions from Act 250 for trails, village centers, and the forest products industry. However, I speak directly for my constituents and many other Vermonters when I share a deep concern that this current bill does not substantively address the length of time or level of expense required to go through the Act 250 process, or the inconsistency with which Act 250 is applied in different regions of the state. I sincerely hope that we will follow through with addressing these issues within the current legislative biennium."

Rep. Sheldon of Middlebury explained her vote as follows:

"Madam Speaker:

Act 250 has served Vermont well for fifty years. This bill addresses climate change and ecosystem protection while supporting development where we want it, ensuring that Act 250 continues to protect the Vermont we love."

Rep. Sullivan of Dorset explained her vote as follows:

"Madam Speaker:

I voted no as I am disappointed that after all the time spent on this bill that the need to correct the de novo review process was passed over. I am further disappointed that the discussions did not move away from 'Isn't it great to use this bill as an avenue to address climate change' to one where the discussion was focused on the collective prosperity of Vermont and how business development combined with natural resource preservation may have better gotten us to a bill that preserved all the good we are blessed to have. Regulatory schemes and processes that are not predictable in application, that use vague standards, that are uncertain as to the potential for delay, are killers to new investment and growth.”
