

Elizabeth Malone

We have outlined these threats (coming from the FCC and Federal courts) before several legislative committees and, as a way forward, have asked for a study committee to be established to examine these issues.

The House Energy and Technology Committee and Senate Finance Committee are currently looking at whether to include the study committee in legislation. It is likely that this committee will require a modest appropriation to cover the participation of 2-3 legislators, and we ask that you include this allocation in the FY20 budget.

We appreciate the opportunity to testify. Thank you for your consideration