We are human, ALL of us, no matter how small.

If we legalize taking all rights away from ANY human being, we are placing value on individuals, deciding who should live and who should die.

These are babies. The most innocent among us, ones who cannot speak for themselves. Not only should we be voting no, we should be protecting them. Protecting them does not mean killing them, for any reason. Late term abortions are not the answer. Some argue my body my choice, well a simple fact is the tiny life inside isn't your body, is someone else's.

We are killing our babies.

If someone is diagnosed with cancer and given very little hope for surviving...do we say "to bad", and do nothing ? No, not only do we go out of our way to save them, but we don't take away their rights and put them out of what we know is going to be "misery", and "no quality of life". We don't say "It takes to much out of my personal life and is to hard for me to watch you suffer, this is more human for you" and then kill them.

We don't take away innocent human rights and end their lives because they are a "risk" to our own, "inconvenient", or "unplanned". We don't end others lives without consent because they are "unhealthy" and will have no "quality" of life.

So why should we do this to babies, our babies?

Please, vote no.
