

Pregnancy Prevention Testimony

My name is Morgan Edgerly, and I attend Parent Child Center.

Two minutes is not enough time to discuss the challenge of finding housing as a teen parent. I would take four days!

My mom is 40 years old. She had my sister at 19, and she had a hard time. She still to this day lives with my grandmother. My dad dropped out of high school. His goal was to be in the Army, but he found out about my sister being born, so he wanted to get a job to help out. He dropped his goals for my siblings and I, to make sure we are well taken care of. To this day he says: It was hard.

I have patterns in my family of dropping out of school. My mom, dad, sister, and I all dropped out of high school. I lost all hope of graduating. But coming to the Parent Child Center helped me a lot.

Now, I'm aiming to graduate in May, 2021. I'm taking classes I love, and am around people I love. We are a family at PCC. I'm glad I came to the Parent Child Center. They have helped me find my hope again, and I am proud of who I am becoming.
