

Why does this even have to be a discussion? How is there any opposition to this? Why are we not making it explicit that we are 1-against enslavement of fellow human beings, and 2-in support of the well-being of all people, regardless of skin color, ethnic background, religion, age... all the ways in which we define ourselves as individuals? To do anything other than offer support, and work toward equality of all people is unkind, disingenuous, disrespectful and discriminatory.

We must do all we can to lift each other up. We must.
