

Vermont Corrections Population and Capacity

In 2007 the Council of States Government projected Vermont's inmate population would reach 2,681 by 2018. Instead, State efforts have resulted in there being more than 950 fewer than that projection. Though the number of offenders incarcerated has declined by 15% since 2008 that trend is not expected to continue.

Inmate Population (3-11-2019)
In-State Male	1,367
Out-of-State Male	241
Total Male	1,608
Total Female	153

Current Corrections Facility Capacity: The total number of available beds in Vermont's Correction systems ranges from 1500 to 1600 at any given time. Best practices require that the number of beds should exceed the expected population by 10%.

Current Bed Capacity Needs: With 1,761 inmates and a 10% margin of safety, Vermont's Corrections bed capacity should be roughly 1900 beds.
