Executive Summary

This is the 31st annual report of the Petroleum Cleanup Fund (PCF) Advisory Committee. This report will provide a review of receipts and disbursements for fiscal year 2018, in accordance with 10 V.S.A. § 1941 and will evaluate the effectiveness of the PCF in meeting its legislative intent. This report will also highlight financial challenges within the fund and will provide recommendations.

In fiscal year 2018 the PCF continued to be the primary financial responsibility mechanism for Vermont underground storage tank (UST) owners, which is required by state and federal law. The PCF also provided financial resources necessary to remediate petroleum contamination at schools, homes, businesses, farms, churches, public works facilities and many other locations. The PCF provides a means to remediate releases that threaten public health and the environment. Since the inception of the fund, petroleum releases have been discovered at more than 4,000 properties, with contamination discovered in drinking water wells, in the indoor air of homes and businesses, seeping into surface water and at dangerous levels in public utility lines. Without the PCF many Vermont businesses, homeowners and public entities would struggle to pay for expensive cleanups. Critical site cleanup work remains at nearly a thousand properties contaminated by releases from petroleum USTs and aboveground storage tanks (ASTs). The continued success of the PCF depends upon the continued solvency of the fund.

On May 22, 2018, Governor Scott signed into law S.260 (Act 168), which extended the PCF sunset dates by 10 years. The sunset for making new claims and for collecting tank assessment fees was extended from July 1, 2019 to July 1, 2029. The sunset for collecting petroleum distributor licensing fees was extended from April 1, 2021 to April 1, 2031. The committee had recommended in its last report that the legislature push back the sunset by ten years rather than five, as had been done during each prior extension, based on the fund's successful track record coupled with the lack of available or affordable private insurance to replace the PCF for most Vermonters.

The heating oil account in fiscal year 2018 experienced its lowest level of cleanup expenditures since the legislature expanded heating oil PCF coverage in 2004. The primary reason for this was a decrease in AST cleanup costs by 36% from the prior year. This success is partially attributable to increased prevention efforts, through both new regulation and increased tank replacement financial assistance. The AST Rules were revised in response to Act 76 and require tank inspections every three years and include a delivery prohibition to tanks at high risk of a fuel release. The State of Vermont provided tank replacement and upgrade grants to low-income tank owners, and the Vermont Fuel Dealers Association provided financial incentives for heating oil and kerosene tank owners to replace a non-compliant tank through the Vermont Fuel Tank Rebate Program. Approximately 900 ASTs were replaced with new tanks through low-income assistance and incentives, and many more were replaced independently in response to the new inspection requirements. After August 2020, the deadline for all initial AST inspections, we anticipate significantly fewer costly AST releases.

The motor fuel account has significant financial risk associated with the backlog of 619 open motor fuel UST sites. Fortunately, the impact from the Jan. 1, 2018 deadline for the removal or replacement of the remaining unlined single-wall USTs was less than anticipated due to fewer loans requested by industry and fewer new releases discovered during tank closures. This allows us to reprioritize the motor fuel account funding to address the backlog. At least 528 sites on the backlog have groundwater contamination and are subject to the newly filed Groundwater Protection Rule and Strategy. This new rule requires both reclassification of groundwater to non-potable at sites where contamination has migrated beyond the property boundary, and cleanup of those sites back to potable conditions. ANR is currently determining exactly how many sites are subject to this reclassification and cleanup requirement. Historically, ANR has prioritized cleanup based risk to human health and the environment.

Description and Purpose

This is the 31st annual report on the status of the PCF. This report will look at the effectiveness of the fund in meeting its intended purpose, review the status of cleanups from motor fuel and heating oil releases from both aboveground and underground heating oil storage tanks, review the farm and residential UST and AST financial assistance programs and provide future PCF projections and recommendations, if needed.

In 1985, the General Assembly enacted Vermont's first law to regulate the construction, maintenance and operation of underground steel tanks used for the storage of petroleum products. Act 66 of the 1985 session established standards for new construction, and set a deadline of June 30, 1998, later amended to Dec. 22, 1998, for the removal or replacement of unprotected USTs.

In 1988 the legislature created the PCF, and appointed this advisory committee to oversee the financing, effectiveness and conduct of the program. The primary purpose of the PCF is to protect public health and the environment by paying for cleanup and restoration of contaminated soil and groundwater caused by releases from underground petroleum storage tanks, and to compensate third parties for property damage and bodily injury. Many changes have been made since 1988, such as the inclusion of pollution coverage for ASTs and farm and residential USTs (1998) and the addition of the AST financial assistance program (2004). The Fund also provides loans to fuel tank owners for tank removal, replacement, and upgrade of equipment. The current deadline for filing a claim against the fund is July 1, 2029.

The PCF provides financial assurance to UST owners, who are required by state and federal law to provide coverage for up to $1 million for cleanup and $1 million for third party liability. Since such affordable comprehensive insurance coverage continues to be difficult or impossible to find for tank owners, the PCF enables tank owners to meet their financial responsibility (FR) requirements. By law, the U.S. EPA must approve the operation and viability of a state fund before it may serve as a financial responsibility mechanism for UST owners. U.S. EPA accepted Vermont's fund as a financial assurance mechanism in 1990, with the requirement that a minimum balance of $1 million be maintained. U.S. EPA annually reviews and assesses the soundness of Vermont's cleanup fund. The most recent report was filed in September 2018, and on November 21, 2018 U.S. EPA reported no concerns from their assessment.

In 2004, the Legislature extended coverage to homeowner heating oil tanks and enacted a fee on heating fuel to create a revenue source for the heating oil related activities covered by the PCF. The PCF was also divided into two separate accounts: a motor fuel account and a heating oil account, with both revenue and expenditures to be managed within each account. In 2010, the fee on heating oil, kerosene and dyed (off-road) diesel was increased from a half cent per gallon to a full cent.

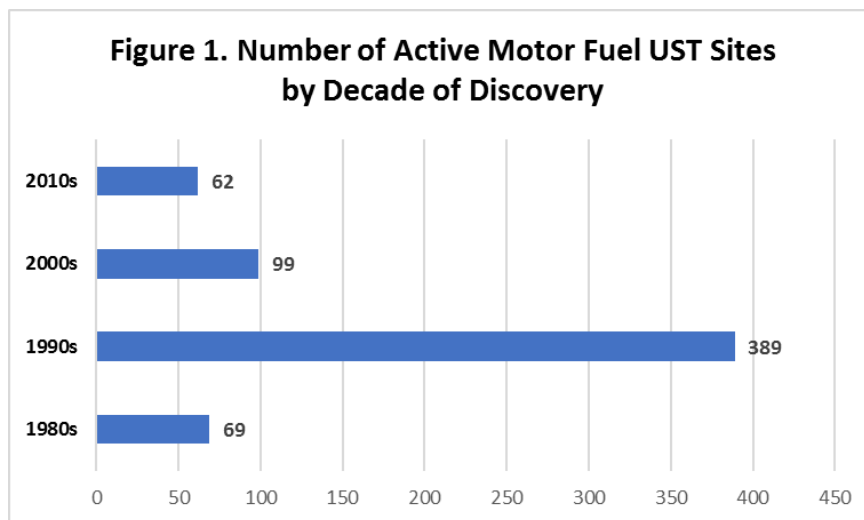

Revenue for the motor fuel account comes from an annual assessment fee of up to $100 per tank on most underground tanks, ($250 for combination systems where the single-walled tank is lined) and a "distributor licensing fee" of one cent per gallon of motor fuel sold in the state. Additional revenue comes from the repayment of loans, recovery of some costs from responsible parties and interest accruing upon any cash balance in the fund. The sunset date for collection of tank assessment fees is July 1, 2029, and for the motor fuel and heating fuel licensing fees is April 1, 2031.

Expenditures include the cost of cleanup, third party payments, loans to tank owners, financial assistance to homeowners to assist in the removal of heating oil USTs and replacement or upgrade of ASTs, and administrative expenses. Each uninsured cleanup undertaken in the state becomes eligible for fund assistance after the party responsible for the tank meets a certain “deductible,” a co-insurance payment based on the circumstances of ownership. For commercial entities, the deductible is set at $10,000 per occurrence, although single-walled tank owners pay a higher deductible, and commercial heating oil USTs less than 1,100 gallons pay a $250 deductible. For homeowners, a deductible of $250 must be met. Owners of commercial heating oil ASTs meet a $1,000 deductible.

Risks to Fund Solvency

Active Site Backlog. The large number of contaminated properties that are eligible for reimbursement is the most significant risk to the solvency of the PCF. These are comprised of motor fuel and heating oil USTs and ASTs, with motor fuel USTs posing the greatest financial risk as further described below. To date, the PCF has made disbursements at 2,957 properties. Attachment 2 and 3 provide a detailed list of properties that have received reimbursements from the PCF. Currently, there are 917 open PCF eligible cases of which 173 are spills and 744 are sites; most of the sites have contamination present crossing property boundaries. Spills are generally smaller and less complex releases that can be remediated and closed within 1-2 years, whereas sites are normally from larger and more complex releases that are costlier to cleanup and can take decades to reach closure. The most common open spill is from a residential AST release, and the most common open site is from a filling station motor fuel UST release. Of the 744 active PCF eligible sites, 619 are from motor fuel USTs with most of these releases discovered during the 1990s; see Figure 1 below.

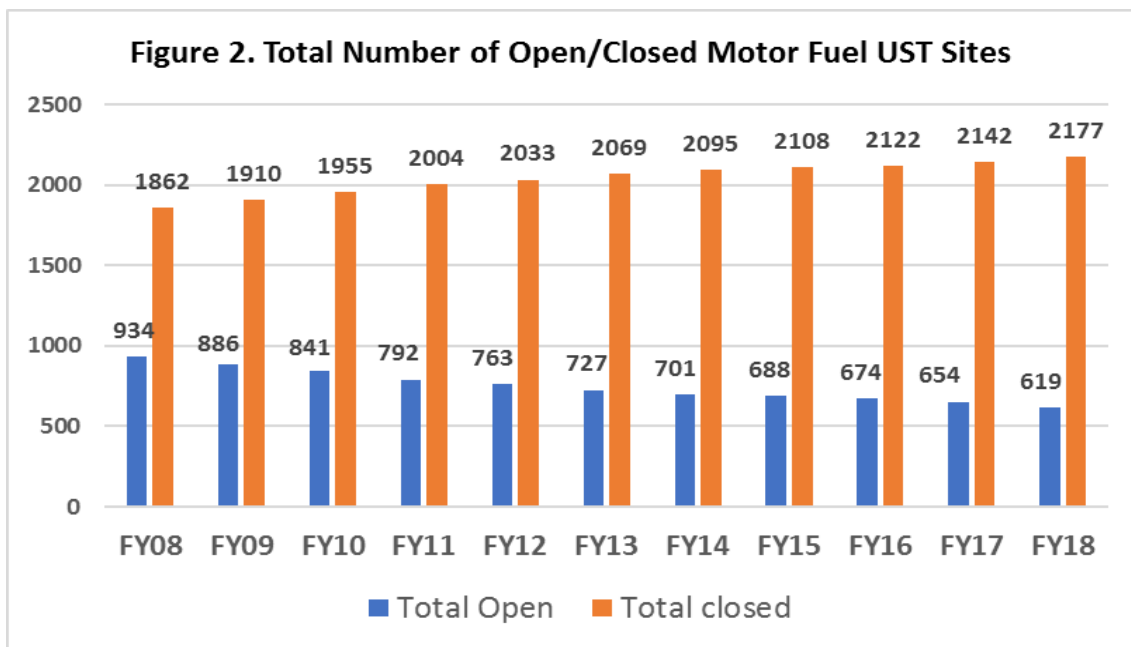

The large backlog of sites in the 1990s is attributable to the U.S. EPA tank removal deadline. All commercial motor fuel single-walled steel tanks that lacked spill, overfill and corrosion protection needed to either be removed or upgraded by December 22, 1998. This was an important step in removing thousands of tanks in Vermont that were at high-risk of costly releases. The legacy from these unprotected tanks is that we still have an estimated motor fuel tank liability of nearly $50M based on a 2016 actuarial study. Fortunately, we are continuing to make considerable progress with prevention. One illustration is to compare the number of motor fuel UST releases discovered in 1998 (the year of the U.S. EPA deadline) with the number of motor fuel UST releases discovered in 2017; this deadline is discussed further below. In 1998, a total of 163 motor fuel UST releases were discovered versus only nine discovered in 2017 with only three of these from active filling stations.

Despite progress, every year there are still numerous new PCF eligible releases. Many of these releases were preventable and the cleanup costs limit the resources that can be allocated to addressing the backlog. In fiscal year 2018, petroleum releases were discovered at another 126 PCF eligible properties. Of these, 73 releases were from ASTs, and the other 53 releases were from USTs.

Of the 73 AST releases, 68 were from heating fuel, three were from motor fuel, and two were from hydraulic oil. Of the 68 heating fuel AST releases (seven fewer than the prior year), 14 were from outdoor kerosene tanks and 54 were from indoor tanks. The reported causes for the 73 AST releases were as follows: 35 were from a leaking tank, 26 were from leaking fittings (at least one due to ice falling off a roof and one from a fuel line corroded by the basement concrete floor), seven were from tanks tipping over (three due to unstable foundations, two due to vehicle accidents, one from a building demolition, and one from flooding in a basement), and five were from miscellaneous reasons. Finally, three of the indoor basement releases were from driver error filling tanks with no functioning vent alarm – two had obstructed vents and the pressure ruptured the tanks and in the other case the tank was disconnected, and the driver delivered fuel directly to the basement floor.

Of the 53 UST releases, 46 were from heating oil tanks and seven were from motor fuel tanks. Thirty of the heating oil UST releases were residential and the other sixteen were commercial. Three of the motor fuel UST releases were at active filling stations (two during closures to comply with the Jan. 1, 2018 single-wall tank deadline and one during a routine piping replacement for a double-walled system), two were at former filling station releases discovered during property transactions and two were farm tanks.

This large number of newly contaminated properties will result in significant disbursements from the PCF. The costliest of these are from the gasoline UST releases. Though the number of these is low, many older sites remain that will require remediation and hence future PCF disbursements. These older sites tend to be the most expensive sites to clean up in part due to the size and complexity of the release. The U.S. EPA Office of Underground Storage Tanks has made addressing the site backlog a priority, and just this year has set a stretch goal for states to increase annual cleanups by 25%. Of the 917 active sites where PCF eligible work needs to be completed, 619 were from leaking motor fuel USTs. In the past decade, the number of these sites has been reduced by 315 sites, as shown below in Figure 2. This figure also shows that we have closed over 2,100 motor fuel UST sites since program inception.

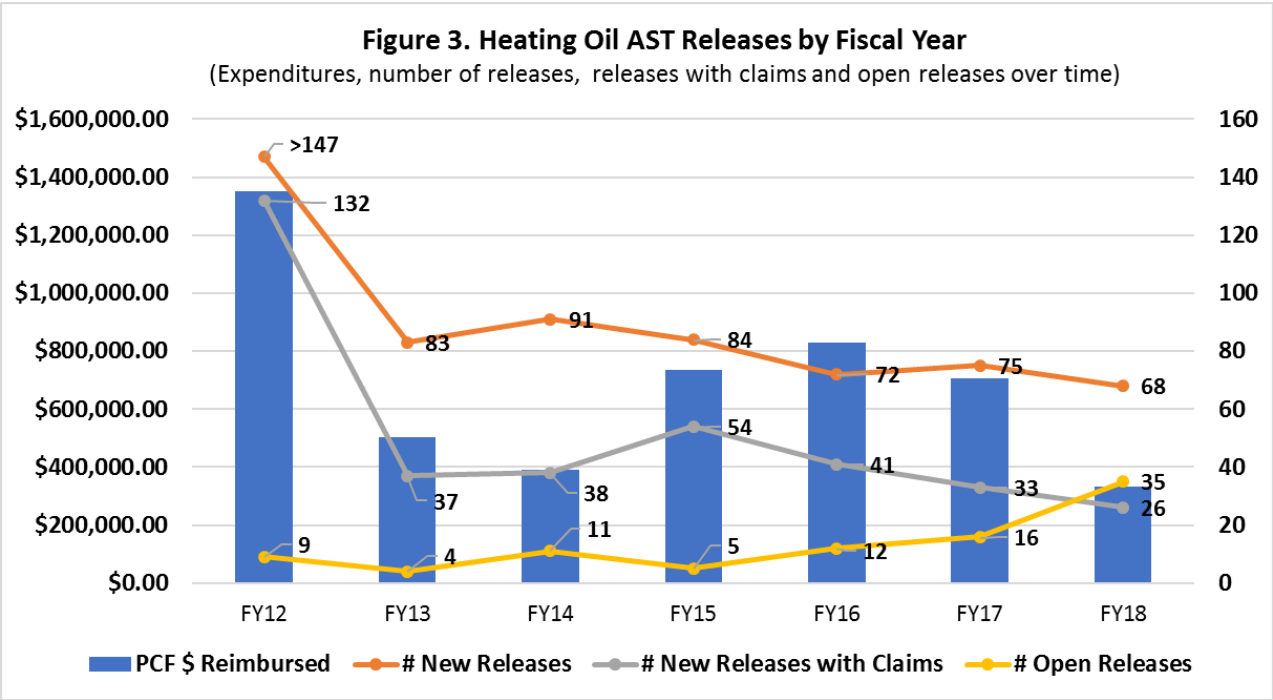

A 2016 actuarial study found that the average severity of PCF claims for motor fuel UST releases over the past decade was approximately $70,000. This equates to approximately $43M for addressing the remaining motor fuel UST backlog. This estimate may be low since sites on the backlog are some of our most complex and costly sites to cleanup.

Groundwater Protection Rule and Strategy. The newly filed Groundwater Protection Rule and Strategy is anticipated to become effective in early 2019; it passed the Interagency Committee on Administrative Rules in mid-December. This rule has the most bearing on our motor fuel UST backlog. Currently, there are at least 528 such sites that have groundwater contamination subject to this rule. New requirements include both reclassification of groundwater to non-potable at sites where contamination has migrated beyond the property boundary, and cleanup of those sites back to potable conditions. ANR is currently determining exactly how many sites are subject to this reclassification and cleanup requirement. Historically, ANR has prioritized cleanup based risk to human health and the environment, and contaminated groundwater beyond a property boundary was not in isolation a trigger for a cleanup. ANR is beginning to consider cost effective strategies for addressing these new cleanup requirements. ANR already conducted a LEAN event to streamline the reclassification process.

Heating Oil Account and the Aging Residential AST Population. Historically, the heating oil account has been unsustainable since its creation on July 1, 2004. In order to keep it from running a deficit, several transfers have been needed from the motor fuel account. As detailed in last year's report, $3.35 million was transferred between fiscal year 2005 and fiscal year 2010. Things improved after raising the distributor licensing fee from a half cent per gallon of heating fuel to a full cent in 2010, though the account still periodically required the influx of additional monies. For example, a total of $1.05 million was transferred from the General Fund in fiscal years 2011 and 2012 to help handle flood events. From fiscal year 2013 through 2017, the account ran a deficit in four of the five years and finally required a $120,000 transfer from the motor fuel account at the end of fiscal year 2017. Given this situation, in fall 2015 the committee resolved that rather than raising additional revenue the best course of action was to strengthen prevention efforts, particularly for ASTs as many of the releases were preventable. Independently, Rep. Dan Conner approached the committee about legislation he was proposing for strengthening prevention requirements in the AST Rules, which was supported and became Act 76 in the spring of 2016. The new AST Rules in response to Act 76 require tank inspections every three years and include a delivery prohibition to tanks at high risk of a fuel release. Details on this effort are included below under the section, "Investing in Prevention."

Since AST release prevention efforts are a key strategy for the overall health of the PCF, release dynamics will be closely followed, at a minimum, through the initial three-year inspection phase-in period for all ASTs that ends August 15, 2020. For last year's report, the committee added a new chart (Figure 3) to assist with better communicating AST releases. This figure was revised in this report from calendar year to fiscal year. Figure 3 shows AST cleanup expenditures by fiscal year irrespective of the release year, as well graph lines showing by fiscal year the number of new releases, the number of those releases that have resulted in claims to date, and the current number of open releases. Expenditures for most fiscal years are primarily comprised of cleanup costs related to releases from the current and past fiscal year as there is often a lag period between the release date and when cleanup occurs, and the claim is filed and processed.

For example, for fiscal year 2016, 42% of all expenditures were for cleanup of releases that happened in prior years. Similarly, for fiscal year 2018, 49% of expenditures were from releases predating the fiscal year.

One positive trend to highlight is that the number of new releases each year is trending downwards as shown by the orange trend line in Figure 3 for new releases. This is a trend the committee believes should significantly accelerate after the three-year inspection phase in. The other two lines in Figure 3 are more dynamic, as data for each year changes with time. The grey line showing cumulative releases resulting in claims will continue to increase until plateauing about two years after the release year. The number of new claims for 2018 releases is expected to grow in 2019 and beyond. Conversely, the yellow line showing open releases will continue to decrease over time as spill sites are cleaned up and closed.

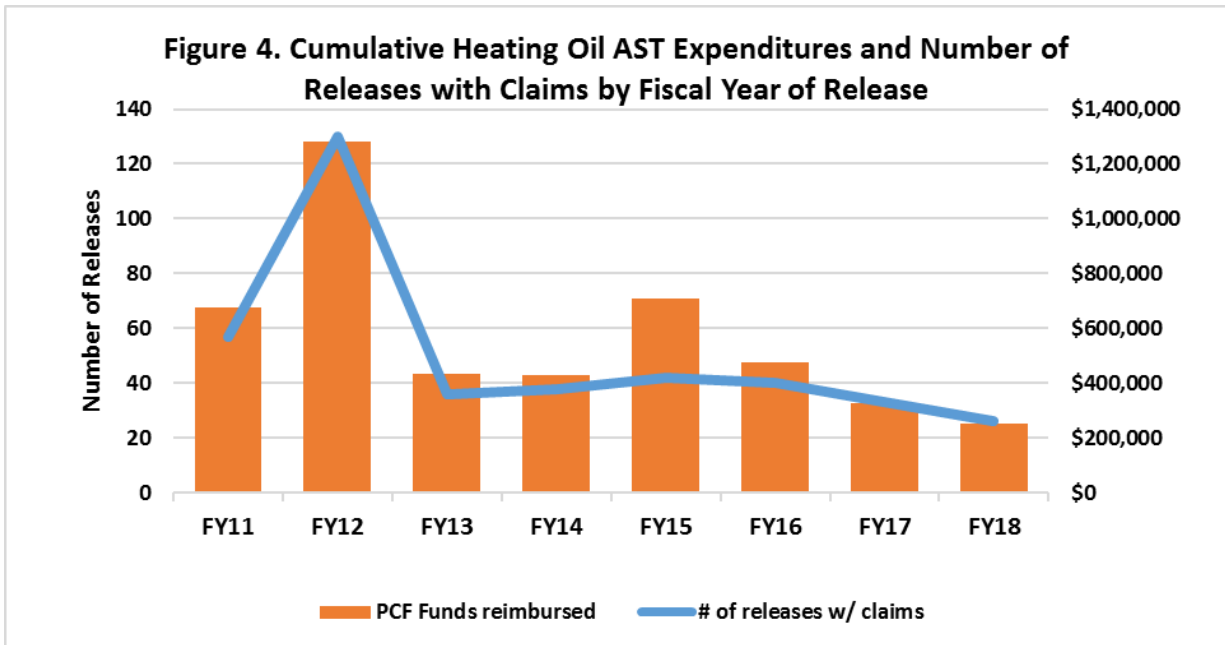

Figure 4 presents data in a very different way, showing cumulative expenditures related solely to the releases from that same fiscal year. One illustration of how to look at these two figures is looking at data for fiscal year 2015. From Figure 3, the graph shows that there were 54 new releases that resulted in claims – a high for the past five years. Due to the lag in expenditures for those claims into the next fiscal year, it follows that fiscal year 2016 had the most expenditures in the past five years, but that is not readily apparent from just Figure 3. By looking at Figure 4, it becomes clearer that the spike in claims from releases in fiscal year 2015 did result in a commensurate spike in expenditures, i.e., the bar for FY15 on Figure 4 shows the highest level of expenditures since the FY12 bar, affected by Tropical Storm Irene.

Another notable example would be fiscal year 2014, the only year besides fiscal year 2018 where the year-end balance was positive. Figure 3 shows that there were fewer releases resulting in claims in both fiscal year 2013 and 2014 that would predominately comprise expenditures in fiscal year 2014. These lower expenditures were coupled with a colder winter, greater fuel oil consumption and the highest revenue on record from the heating oil distributor licensing fee.

Figure 4 highlights an important aspect to the vulnerability of the fund. In fiscal year 2012, Tropical Storm Irene alone caused more than 90 AST releases costing the PCF more than $800,000 in cleanup expenses. The legislature provided $750,000 in funds to help cover these costs. Without this additional income, the fund could not have absorbed these higher costs. Notably, 2018 has been another record year for hurricanes and tropical storms and some models predict an increased risk of another Irene type event in Vermont. One measure taken to address this risk is that the revised AST Rules require all new indoor ASTs in flood hazard areas to meet requirements to prevent tanks floating and spilling their contents during a flood. Similar steps are recommended but not required for outdoor tanks in flood prone areas.

Looking to the future, we anticipate a decrease in both cost and number of releases given our efforts at prevention through the residential and farm AST financial assistance program and the addition of the tank inspection requirements to the AST rules that went into effect Aug. 15, 2017. All ASTs are required to be inspected by August 15, 2020. Inspections are being phased in over this period of three years. As more and more tanks are upgraded to the current standards, fewer and fewer new tank releases should occur, allowing us to repay the motor fuel account for past transfers and help address the backlog of older motor fuel UST sites.

High Priority Sites. The PCF's most important priority is to protect human health and the environment from exposure to petroleum from tank releases. This was highlighted in 2012 at a Barre site where explosive gasoline vapors were discovered in the town's sewer system and in homes causing unhealthy exposure to the residents. In addition, hundreds of people were at risk of injury and death had there been an explosion in the sewer system. Immediate corrective action eliminated this significant risk to public health.

Of the more than 4,000 properties where petroleum contamination has been discovered, many of these have affected drinking water wells, contaminated indoor air of homes and businesses, have migrated into surface water bodies and have been found at dangerous levels in public utility lines. For example, more than 200 sites have been discovered where nearly 1,000 public or private drinking water wells have been contaminated. Attachment 4 provides a list of the number of sites discovered each year that have had a direct effect on a sensitive receptor. To address human health and environmental exposures to releases the fund has authorized proactive measures which include rapid initial response to releases, providing bottled water and point-of-entry treatment for contaminated drinking water, aggressively recovering free product, protecting surface water bodies, indoor air remediation and mitigation of dangerous petroleum vapors.

Sites that have a direct effect on public health and the environment are the program's most critical priority and demand the greatest level of effort. These same sites also present the greatest risk to fund solvency. Over the history of the program, the sites that have affected public water supplies or sensitive environmental areas have required extensive remediation at a high cost to the PCF. A site discovered in Killington had more than 80 private wells that were contaminated with a gasoline additive, MTBE. One home even had to endure significant disruption to the use of its well, as the well was so contaminated that at one point it was used as a remediation well. It is important to maintain a sufficient balance in the PCF, in excess of the required $1 million federally mandated reserve, to ensure there are adequate funds to provide an immediate and effective response where public health is at risk.

Projected Liability Funding Gap. PCF Income and Expenses for both the motor fuel and heating oil accounts are tabulated in Attachment 6, which captures each calendar year from 1988 through 2015, and then transitions to fiscal year reporting in 2016. The table showing expenses highlights the shortfalls in the heating oil account from 2005 until the present, as years 2005 -2009 required a transfer of $3,400,000 from the motor fuel account, another $750,000 was legislatively transferred from the General Fund to help with Tropical Storm Irene, and another transfer from the motor fuel account was needed at the end of fiscal year 2017 to avoid a negative balance. This table also displays other transfers of funds, including those out of the fund by the legislature since the fund was established in 1989.

Actuarial studies completed in 2005 and 2016 each found that the fund was “technically insolvent” since “projected liabilities exceeded assets of the fund” through 2015 and 2026, respectively. A notable difference between these two studies is that the gap between projected assets and liabilities has significantly grown over time. The actuarial study in 2005 was completed only one year after the legislature enacted a fee on heating oil, so there was very limited data to help project how these new risks would play out. There is now an additional decade of data under this new funding and expenditure framework, which in part is why the PCF Advisory Committee requested ANR moving forward with a second actuarial study in 2016. Technical insolvency involves evaluating whether all outstanding claims can be met by assets and income. Given past data, we have a very good understanding of the average cost to clean up our various types of open sites, e.g., motor fuel UST, heating oil UST, heating AST, etc., so given our existing open site backlog the actuary can assess existing liabilities to the fund. In 2005, the actuary projected that PCF would have a $10.5 million deficit on Dec. 31, 2005. By comparison, the latest study projected a deficit of $26.2 million on June 30, 2016. Legislative transfer of funds is an additional risk to fund solvency. In fiscal year 2009, $2.8 million was transferred out of the PCF, expanding the gap between projected liabilities and fund assets. This transfer also resulted in some cleanups being delayed. Maintaining a healthy cash balance above the federally mandated $1 million reserve is important to the long-term success of the fund and ensures that motor fuel tank owners can clean up a catastrophic release.

Review of Receipts to the Fund

A review of fund receipts for fiscal year 2018 is summarized in Attachment 1. In fiscal year 2018, total fund receipts for the motor fuel account were $5,180,604. This represents an increase in revenue of $865,811 as compared to fiscal year 2017. The largest source of the increase was attributable to a $522,951 insurance cost recovery action. The distributor licensing fee, a one cent per gallon assessment of all motor fuels sold in the state, contributed $3,843,003, an increase of $24,693 over the prior year. Owners of “Category One” storage tanks paid $181,825 in tank assessment fees, a decrease of $23,025 over fiscal year 2017. Overall tank assessment revenue peaked in fiscal year 2015, when higher tank fees began being assessed on tank systems that are not fully double walled to incent their removal. As previously projected, this revenue continued decreasing through fiscal year 2018, as tanks with higher assessment fees were removed. Additionally, the overall tank population is beginning to trend down. Repayment of motor fuel UST loan income increased significantly again, totaling $535,838. This is an increase of $181,457 over fiscal year 2017, and over $248,149 since fiscal year 2016. This reflects increasing outstanding loan balance that is from increased loan demands to help tank owners meet the single-wall tank system closure deadline. Loan interest totaled $16,854, a minor decrease from fiscal year 2017. The state successfully recovered funds totaling $542,706 in fiscal year 2018, a large jump from fiscal year 2017 when recoveries totaled $21,399. Interest paid on the PCF account was $60,079, an increase of $42,156 from the prior year.

In fiscal year 2018, total fund receipts for the heating fuel account were $1,364,671, a minor increase of $3,193 compared to fiscal year 2017. The Vermont Fuel Assistance Program also supports our prevention efforts and provided $262,000 in fiscal year 2018 to supplement the PCF funded residential tank removal and replacement assistance program.

Review of Disbursements from the Fund

A review of fund disbursements for fiscal year 2018 is summarized in Attachments 1, 2, and 3. In fiscal year 2018, motor fuel account disbursements totaled $3,342,030, a decrease of $821,901 from fiscal year 2017. Motor fuel expenditures were down due to less loan demand and less cleanup work. Most tank owners who still needed to meet the Jan. 1, 2018 single-wall combination tank removal deadline elected to not replace tanks, and cleanups of older sites were slowed as a precaution due to much higher anticipated impacts from the single-wall deadline. Heating fuel disbursements totaled $888,387, a decrease of $507,849 over fiscal year 2017. Heating fuel cleanup expenditure costs totaled $613,914, a decrease of $296,135 from fiscal year 2017. Significantly, this was the lowest level of heating oil cleanup expenditures since the legislature expanded heating oil PCF coverage in 2004. Heating fuel tank assistance expenditures totaled $274,474, a decrease of $205,334 from the prior fiscal year. This decrease in assistance expenditures did not reflect a decrease in demand, which remained high due to the new inspection requirement in the AST Rules. The decrease was by design to correct spending levels in fiscal year 2017 as described below in the section, “Effectiveness of the Fund in Meeting Its Purpose.” Demand was still able to be met by increased assistance funding provided by the Vermont Department of Children and Families (DCF) Fuel Assistance Program.

A more detailed breakout of expenditures from the motor fuel account included $667,879 for the UST replacement loan program (a decrease of $233,974 from fiscal year 2017), and $2,281,445 for remedial action at UST motor fuel sites (a decrease of $718,894 from fiscal year 2017), which included both $284,662 for 3rd party expenditures (a decrease of $92,187 from fiscal year 2017) and $195,510 for bulk storage remedial action (an increase of $24,005 from fiscal year 2017). A more detailed breakout of expenditures from the heating fuel account included $249,020 for remedial action for UST heating fuel sites (a decrease of $86,795 from fiscal year 2017), $17,514 for the residential UST removal program (a decrease of $61,630 from fiscal year 2017), $364,894 for remedial action for AST heating fuel sites (a decrease of $209,340 from fiscal year 2017), and $256,960 for the residential AST replacement grant program (a decrease of $143,704 from fiscal year 2017).

Overall, in fiscal year 2018 both cleanup expenditures and assistance spending were down by $1,015,029 and $439,308 respectively. Expenditures were down on the motor fuel side primarily due to the Jan. 1, 2018 single-wall combination tank removal deadline. Not only did loans sharply decline from the peak UST replacement demand from the prior year, but action on additional cleanups was slowed due to expectations of a much higher loan demand as we approached the final deadline and due to an expectation that we would find several more leaking tanks during the closure of single-wall systems, including possible catastrophic releases. Only two new releases were discovered in fiscal year 2018 during closure of the single-walled systems, and neither were catastrophic. Heating oil expenditures were down on the assistance side to offset spending above the cap during the prior year. Notably overall assistance spending was up from last year when factoring in federal monies from DCF’s fuel assistance program; this is discussed in more detail in the “Investing in Prevention Activities” section below.

Third party claims continue to represent a small portion of overall disbursements (less than five percent historically). As of the end of fiscal year 2018 the PCF has paid $7,397,806 for all third-party claims, with $284,662 paid out in fiscal year 2018.

Since the inception of the PCF in 1988, the Fund has disbursed money across a total of 2,957 properties (Attachment 2 & 3), which includes sites where remediation occurred in prior years. Attachment 2 provides a detailed list of properties that have received reimbursements from the PCF for motor fuel tank releases. This primarily consists of retail filling stations, but also includes bulk storage facilities, farm and other non-retail commercial properties, residences and other locations. Attachment 3 provides a detailed list of properties that have received reimbursements from the PCF for heating fuel tank releases. This includes schools, homes, businesses, farms, churches, public works facilities and many other locations.

Figure 5 below provides a breakdown of the sources that comprise our PCF reimbursement sites. These sites are located throughout Vermont in 240 towns. Attachment 5 shows the distribution of these sites throughout the state.

In Figure 6 below, expenditures on contaminated sites in 2018 are broken out by task type. A total of 42 percent of expenditures were cleanup related, of which eleven percent was for emergency spill response, 28 percent for site corrective action, and three percent for contaminated soil management. Ongoing monitoring costs comprised 37 percent of costs. In the future, monitoring will be broken out to differentiate between monitoring to help determine the cleanup remedy, and “monitored natural attenuation,” which is an actual remedy when biodegradation, dilution, dispersion and other natural processes are adequate for bringing a site to closure. The other major expenditure type was “site investigation,” which accounted for 19 percent of expenditures. A total of two percent of expenditures were for bottled water and drinking water treatment.

Investing in Prevention Activities

Fiscal year 2018 had prevention milestones for both the motor fuel and heating fuel accounts. On the motor fuel side, all unlined single-wall USTs were subject to the Jan. 1, 2018 removal deadline. These single-wall systems pose a greater risk of an undetected leak due to the lack of secondary containment and can cause considerable harm in the environment. On the heating fuel side, the new AST Rules went into effect on August 15, 2017, which required inspections of all petroleum ASTs and a fuel delivery prohibition for non-compliant tanks using a physical and electronic “red tag.” Both prevention activities have had significant impacts and are each discussed below.

Single-Wall Motor Fuel UST Removal Deadline. For background, all commercial single-wall motor fuel USTs lacking protection (corrosion, overfill and spill protection) were required to be removed in 1998. Most of these tanks were replaced with double-walled USTs. The remaining “protected” single-walled USTs were required to be permanently taken out-of-service or removed by Jan. 1, 2018, and any tanks taken out-of-service required removal within one year of having been taken out-of-service (by 12/31/18 at the latest). A smaller number of these tanks were also lined. Due to lined tanks having an added level of protection, they do not require removal until Jan. 1, 2018, or within ten years of the date the tank was lined, whichever is later. The last tanks to be lined were in 2013, therefore we expect the last lined tanks to be closed by the end of 2023; this date could be extended since lined tanks may have their life extended by 5 years if they pass an inspection at the end of the ten years. In Dec. 2017, the remaining 42 unlined single-wall UST systems were either taken out-of-service or removed. Of those taken out-of-service, as of Dec. 2018 there were still 16 USTs requiring removal, though nine received a variance to be removed after Dec. 31, 2018. In the past five years, 220 single-walled USTs were removed or taken out-of-service. Other than the small number of lined single-walled USTs with corrosion, overfill and spill protection, all active commercial motor fuel UST systems are now double-walled systems that have both leak detection and spill prevention safeguards. We have now reached the point where most newly discovered releases from motor fuel USTs are no longer from active filling stations. The majority are now from either smaller single-wall farm or residential tanks, or from historic releases at filling stations that closed decades ago prior the inception of ANR’s tank program.

Up until last year, these single-walled motor-fuel underground storage tank (UST) systems were still viewed as a significant risk to the solvency of the motor fuel account. To help offset that risk, beginning on July 1, 2014, owners of single-walled tanks began paying a higher annual tank assessment fee and were subject to a higher deductible in the event of a release. Despite this measure, an actuarial study at the end of Dec. 2016 projected that the PCF balance would still fall below the $1 million minimum required for meeting financial assurance at filling stations by sometime in fiscal year 2018. At the end of fiscal year 2016, the available fund balance was just $2.2 million (after including the $1 million encumbrance), and the additional projected fiscal pressure from the removal deadline was projected to significantly exceed this. Projections through Dec. 2018 for additional loan demand was $3.6 million (based on surveys of tank owners to gauge loan interest) and for additional cleanups from newly discovered releases was $1.2 million (12 releases at $100,000 per release). Loan assistance is provided to tank owners who desire to replace their tanks with double-walled ones. Each year, ANR may be requested to fund up to the statutory limit of approximately $1.9M in loans, which could assist up to 12 facilities in upgrading their tanks based on the tank replacement loans being capped at $150,000 per facility by statute. With respect to the cost per UST release, the 2016 actuarial study showed that the average severity of claims for all UST releases over the past decade is approximately $70,000 and, as past reports have discussed, releases from single-wall systems can easily be at least 40 percent costlier (or $100,000 per claim). This is because undetected releases from these systems can be substantially larger than at systems with secondary containment. In response to the actuarial study projections, the PCF Advisory Committee approved limitations on loan eligibility and ANR paused any new cleanups that were not critical for protection human health and the environment. The approach taken was conservative, but other reasons also mollified the actual impact of the removal deadline. The actual loan demand ended up being well below anticipated as many tank owners decided not to replace their tanks. For fiscal years 2017-2019, actual loan expenditures will likely not exceed $2 million, far below projections. Also, during this same period only five new releases rather than twelve were discovered during the tank removals. One of these sites has already been closed without a claim, leaving potential liabilities on only four releases. Given the success of prevention activities related to the motor fuel account, we are now well positioned financially to ramp up cleanup work related to the backlog of 619 motor fuel UST sites.

New AST Rules. The new AST Rules went into effect on August 15, 2017 and require inspections of all petroleum ASTs and a fuel delivery prohibition for non-compliant tanks using a physical and electronic “red tag.” The Vermont Fuel Dealers Association has estimated that there are approximately 120,000 residential heating oil ASTs and many are aging tanks that are several decades old. As previously detailed under “Risks to Fund Solvency,” the heating fuel account has not been sustainable. Since, most cleanup costs are from preventable AST releases emanating from older tank systems that do not meet standards. It was evident that either more revenue was needed or more action was needed to prevent releases. Act 76 was passed in fiscal year 2016, which led to new rules being promulgated on Aug. 15, 2017. Aside from the routine inspections and “red-tagging” of non-compliant tanks, the Rules also require inspector training and training certification. With the lack of sustainability in the heating fuel account, these new rules are critical to reducing the number and severity of annual AST spills. The new rules require that all tanks be inspected by Aug. 15, 2020, a three-year phase in period.

ANR created and maintains an online list of red-tagged tanks, which records tanks that should not receive deliveries due to high risk of a release. Inspectors are required to not only physically tag a non-compliant tank, but also utilize ANR’s online “red tag” form to add tanks to the red-tag list. Expanded usage of this red-tagged tank list began in fiscal year 2018 in response to routine inspections being required by the new rules. In May, ANR’s Tanks Program began collaborating with ANR’s Environmental Compliance Division to follow-up on ASTs that had been red-tagged for cracks/leaks/rust etc. (one of five reasons an inspector would affix a red-tag, and the most likely to result in environmental/human health impact). There were 157 instances (from summer 2017 to May 2018) where ANR had no notice of repairs or replacement of a red-tagged AST. ANR sent follow-up letters requesting information about whether necessary work had been done. The letter also contained information about possible financial assistance. Finally, the letter indicated if there were no response, then there would be follow-up to determine if there were any violations, e.g., releases. After a second letter was sent, a 40% response rate was achieved. Most of the ASTs have been repaired or replaced; the remainder have either discontinued use (switched fuels to either wood or gas) or await repair. The remaining cases will be divided among ANR investigators for follow-up. A second group of tanks (red-tagged between May and September 4) will go through the same process, with first letters mailed out in the fall. The plan is to evaluate the results of the second phase in Jan. 2019. Initial results are showing excellent progress. As the remaining inventory of ASTs is inspected for the first time through Aug. 20, 2020, a great deal of additional repairs and replacements are anticipated. We are optimistic that the number and severity of AST releases will significantly be reduced after 2020.

There has also been a great deal of outreach and coordination to assist with the implementation of the new AST Rules. Direct communications with homeowners by fuel dealers and outreach to the media including television interviews and public service announcements have been used to educate the public on the state's AST regulations. This outreach has occurred without taxpayer expense, thanks to the partnerships with businesses and non-profits such as VFDA, VPA and the VT Association of Realtors. These partnerships will continue to be used for outreach and education of new regulations. One important outreach in late fall 2017 involved discouraging routine inspections during the heating season to minimize any heating emergencies. To that end, ANR collaborated with industry to develop a joint guidance sent out to all fuel dealers and inspectors via VFDA. In addition, ANR issued a press release to provide general guidance on inspection timing, and where to get assistance on any required repairs or replacements. Another effort involved ANR collaborating with DCF's Weatherization Program, including meeting with their community action partners and assisting with development of their internal guidance for administering DCF funds for responding to "heating emergency" situations that may result from red-tagged tanks during the winter. This guidance has also helped them in responding to AST related calls from their clientele. They have an additional $750,000 available for other types of heating emergencies, e.g., heating appliance repairs. ANR also developed our own policies for responding to any heating emergencies, which included establishing criteria for waiving competitive bids to expedite necessary tank upgrades or replacements.

Grants and Loans. Though prevention efforts are still peaking due to deadlines for AST inspections and single-walled commercial UST removals, leak-prevention activities have been funded by the PCF for over a decade and have helped to mitigate risks and reduce future costs. These include providing financial assistance awards to farm and residential properties to remove and replace aging aboveground and underground heating oil tanks and providing interest free loans to upgrade underground storage tanks. AST Rules were first adopted in October 2011, which recommended routine inspection of old tanks. This initially increased demand for the AST replacement grant, and that demand spiked significantly beginning in fiscal year 2017 after passage of Act 76 requiring inspections and red-tagging of non-compliant tanks. The AST requirements have also increased the cost of new tank installation. This includes installing a concrete pad for all tanks, and a roof for outside tanks that are not under the gable end of a building.

Financial assistance was implemented for removal of home heating oil USTs (in 1998) and replacement or upgrade of ASTs (in 2004) to encourage the repair or removal and replacement of non-compliant tanks before leaks and releases occur. The average cleanup cost for home heating USTs has been approximately $15,000 and AST cleanup costs have averaged approximately $11,000. The committee believes this assistance has been an excellent investment, as millions of dollars in cleanup costs have been avoided by removing or repairing tank systems before they leak.

Grants for Residential Heating Oil USTs (Removal). A total of nine assistance awards were approved in fiscal year 2018 for the closure of residential heating oil USTs; the average award was $1,950. A total of 13 USTs were removed. For heating source replacement, nine of these tanks were replaced by ASTs, two had ASTs installed prior to the UST removal, one converted to natural gas, and one replaced with a heat pump. Three award recipients did not do work, attempts to reach them were unsuccessful and the awards expired. Four other award recipients opted out, with two citing that the work was still unaffordable even after the award. Total PCF reimbursement in FY18 for UST assistance was $17,514, which brings the total amount awarded for USTs since the program began to $1,184,362. In addition to PCF expenditures, ANR also provided two assistance awards in fiscal year 2018 totaling $7,124.59 using federal monies from DCF to help Vermonters also eligible for fuel assistance.

Grants for Residential Heating Fuel ASTs (Replacement or Upgrade). A total of 219 assistance awards were paid in fiscal year 2018 for the replacement or upgrade of residential heating fuel (kerosene or heating oil) ASTs using PCF monies. During the same period, ANR awarded 125 additional replacement awards using DCF assistance monies. Total PCF reimbursement in fiscal year 2018 for AST financial assistance was $256,960, which brings the total amount awarded since the program began to $2,995,477. PCF expenditures were below the statutory cap for reasons described below under “Effectiveness of the Fund in Meeting Its Purpose.” DCF provided ANR with an additional $262,000 to fully cover AST replacements for tank owners who qualify for fuel assistance. Demand for assistance has spiked since AST inspection requirements became effective Aug. 15, 2017. Meeting that demand has been helped by the annual spending caps being legislatively increased from $350,000 to $400,000. See 2016 Act 66 §1, coupled with additional non-PCF assistance from DCF’s Heating Fuel Assistance program. In fiscal year 2019, ANR will only be receiving $75,000 from DCF due to a lack of available federal fuel assistance dollars. Demand has outstripped available funding since fiscal year 2017, so awards since that time have been prioritized by leaking tanks and those that are red-tagged. In addition, at the start of fiscal year 2018 we lowered the annual household income eligibility cap from $74,000 to $65,000 and changed the award sliding scale to better assist a greater number of tank owners.

Beyond assistance monies that DCF provided to ANR, DCF’s Weatherization Program also assisted with AST repairs and replacements during the winter through their community action partners throughout the state. Through these partners they spent $87,805 for repair or replacement of 47 ASTs owned by heating assistance eligible tank owners in heating emergencies due to leaking or red-tagged tanks.

In addition to state assistance programs, 460 Vermonters participated in the Vermont Fuel Tank Rebate Program in 2018. The program was operated by the Vermont Fuel Dealers Association (VFDA) with a safety grant from the National Oilheat Research Alliance (NORA). The program distributed a rebate check of $250 to those applicants that installed a new fuel oil tank and had it inspected by a Vermont certified tank inspector. In total, $115,000 was distributed to qualified rebate applicants between March 15, 2018 and October 31, 2018.

Total Grants for Residential Heating Fuel (USTs and ASTs). In total the PCF UST and AST financial assistance program has funded the removal, replacement and/or upgrade of 3,569 aging petroleum storage tanks; of this 2,869 ASTs have been replaced or upgraded with compliant tanks and 700 USTs have been removed. Figure 6 below depicts the annual fiscal year number of tanks removed and funds awarded from fiscal year 2008-2018.

Loans for Commercial Motor Fuel USTs (Removal or Replacement). In fiscal year 2018, disbursement for UST motor fuel loans totaled $667,879; a decrease of $233,974 from fiscal year 2017. This included $3,000 for the agency to contract for services with a certified accountant to review tank owner’s financials for determination of ability to repay and suggested collateral for each loan. For each facility performing a tank replacement, the statutory cap for loans is $150,000, whereas performing removals only are fully funded at an average of $25,000 per facility. Though loan demand has decreased related to the single-wall combination tank deadline, we anticipate an increase in demand for required tank upgrade work. As of June 30, 2018, the amount of $2,581,039 was the outstanding loan balance.

Loans for Non-Residential Heating Oil USTs (Replacement). The UST Program has received inquiries from owners of commercial buildings, churches and schools (public and private) who are seeking funding sources for the replacement of their large on-premises heating oil tanks. To date one school district (repaid), one private school (repaid), one town library, and two residences (repaid) have received interest-free loans. The outstanding loan balance at the end of fiscal year 2018 was $7,850.

Effectiveness of the Fund in Meeting Its Purpose

The fund was effectively able to meet its purpose of funding cleanups and providing required financial assurance for permitted UST owners in Vermont in fiscal year 2018. Throughout the year there was an adequate balance in the motor fuel account. Notably, a few motor fuel UST contaminated sites had approved corrective action plans that were on hold due to perceived limited resources in the motor fuel account - a significant number of new releases from motor fuel USTs were anticipated in association with single-wall UST removal deadline and a significantly higher demand for replacement UST loans was anticipated from owners of those tanks systems. Since these conservative projections did not play out, some less time critical cleanups have moved forward, and ANR plans to more aggressively pursue cleanups on the motor fuel UST backlog.

The heating oil account was able to meet its purpose of funding cleanups and providing financial assistance to low income tank owners for removal and replacement of tanks at increased risk of a release. The account ended the year with a healthy balance of $534,268. At the end of fiscal year 2017, the PCF Advisory Committee transferred $120,000 from the motor fuel account to the heating oil account to help maintain a positive balance. This transfer was made with the requirement that the money be transferred back once the three-year AST inspection phase-in period is completed in August 2020. The annual statutory PCF tank assistance cap of $400,000 was exceeded in fiscal year 2017 by $79,808, and therefore in fiscal year 2018 we intentionally underspent to correct this. The intention was to spend a maximum of $320,192 (a reduction of $79,808), but the actual expenditures were $274,474, a further reduction of $45,718. This difference was due to approximately 20 applicants never having completed work and claiming their assistance awards. Given the increased demand for assistance spurred by the new inspection requirements, this correction was only made possible by DCF's Fuel Assistance Program increasing its support of prevention efforts by boosting funding assistance from $75,000 in fiscal year 2017 to $262,000 in fiscal year 2018. DCF funding assistance is returning to $75,000 in fiscal year 2019.

Reasonableness of the Cost of Cleanup

In past years, the committee has reviewed the written policies and procedures of the DEC related to UST replacement, eligible costs and reimbursement procedures. In assessing the reasonableness of the cost of cleanup, the committee has reviewed national averages and comparative data from other states. The PCF Advisory Committee has concluded that agency staff responsible for this program has exercised prudent cost containment measures. A review of the latest national survey (2017) of all tank fund managers conducted by Vermont in collaboration with the Association of State and Territorial Solid Waste Management Officials shows that Vermont's average cost of cleaning up contaminated sites is below almost all other states, including the lowest in New England. The continued efforts of Agency staff have helped to maintain reasonable cleanup costs in Vermont.

For each site with an affected receptor the number of actual Vermonters exposed to contamination can vary. The actual users for public water supplies can be as low as 25 people per system to as high as many thousands of users. For sites with affected private water supplies, the number of contaminated wells depends on the specific conditions of the site. On average there are approximately three contaminated wells discovered per site, with an average of 3 users per household. However, one of the 182 sites listed above involved contamination to over 80 wells affecting approximately 240 users, and a site discovered in 2002 involves contamination to over 30 wells, including a public water supply, affecting hundreds of users. Surface water impacts can affect both public health and the environment. High concentrations of petroleum in a stream can cause detrimental affects to biota, and lead to an increased exposure to stream users. Lastly, sites with indoor air impacts can lead to the greatest risk to public health. Petroleum vapors entering a home can be at levels that are explosive. More often petroleum vapors reach levels that pose a serious health risk. Of the 193 sites with indoor air impacts, the number of exposed individuals varied from site to site. An average site involves three homes affected with approximately three persons per home.
