

To Whom it May Concern,

I am writing this letter to voice my stance in regards to the proposition being considered to re-visit the wording we have established around slavery within the state of Vermont. As a resident of this progressive state, a human rights advocate, and as a professional who faces the issues of institutionalized racism daily through the stories of my client's lives, I feel it is necessary to support this action of re-framing the word craft that has been placed around slavery. Slavery IS and, will, God permit, ALWAYS from the stance of our humble state, be ABOLISHED and so it should be worded accordingly. I do greatly hope to see that our legislature will reflect the ethical code of human equality in this decision making process.

Inn kind regards,,

Grace Hurley
