

The Vermont National Guard takes no position on SR 5.

The Vermont Air National Guard continues with preparations to receive the F-35A aircraft at the Burlington Air Guard Station beginning in the fall of 2019.

The F-35A aircraft assigned to Vermont will not be equipped to deliver nuclear weapons.

The Vermont Air National Guard is not aware of or anticipates changes to make the F-35A capable of delivering nuclear weapons.

The Airmen of the Vermont Air National Guard will continue to organize, train and equip to meet Federal and State missions with a high degree of professionalism.