Subject: Labor; employment practices; discrimination

Statement of purpose of bill as introduced: This bill proposes to amend the laws prohibiting discrimination in employment, education, public accommodations, and housing to provide that harassment need not be severe and pervasive to constitute unlawful discrimination and to establish a uniform six-year statute of limitations for claims of discrimination in employment, public accommodations, and housing. This bill also proposes to amend the law prohibiting employment discrimination to provide that an employee need not pursue an internal grievance process prior to filing a claim and shall not be required to demonstrate that a comparable employee was treated differently to prove that discrimination occurred.
An act relating to amending the prohibitions against discrimination

It is hereby enacted by the General Assembly of the State of Vermont:

section.

(2) An employee shall not be required to demonstrate the existence of another employee or individual to whom the employee’s treatment can be compared in determining whether a violation of the provisions of this section occurred.

in violation of the provisions of this section are rarely appropriate for summary judgment.

(2) Notwithstanding any State or federal judicial precedent to the

(A) the provisions of this section shall be construed liberally to accomplish its remedial purposes and any exceptions and exemptions to the provisions of this section shall be construed narrowly in order to maximize the
