

Madame Chair:

Upon further consideration, with the lens of prevention and safety as the cornerstone for the coming adult use market in Vermont, the Department does not concur with the lifting of the THC limit and maintains that a foundational component of the original legislation remain in place.

The risk to users of high levels of THC are significant and we should not risk contributing to the known risks to consumers physical and mental health.

My communication of yesterday to you was based on incomplete information. All errors are mine and please accept my apologies to you and the committee.

Best,
David
