

VERMONT COMMUNITY ACTION PARTNERSHIP (VCAP)

Annual Report 2021

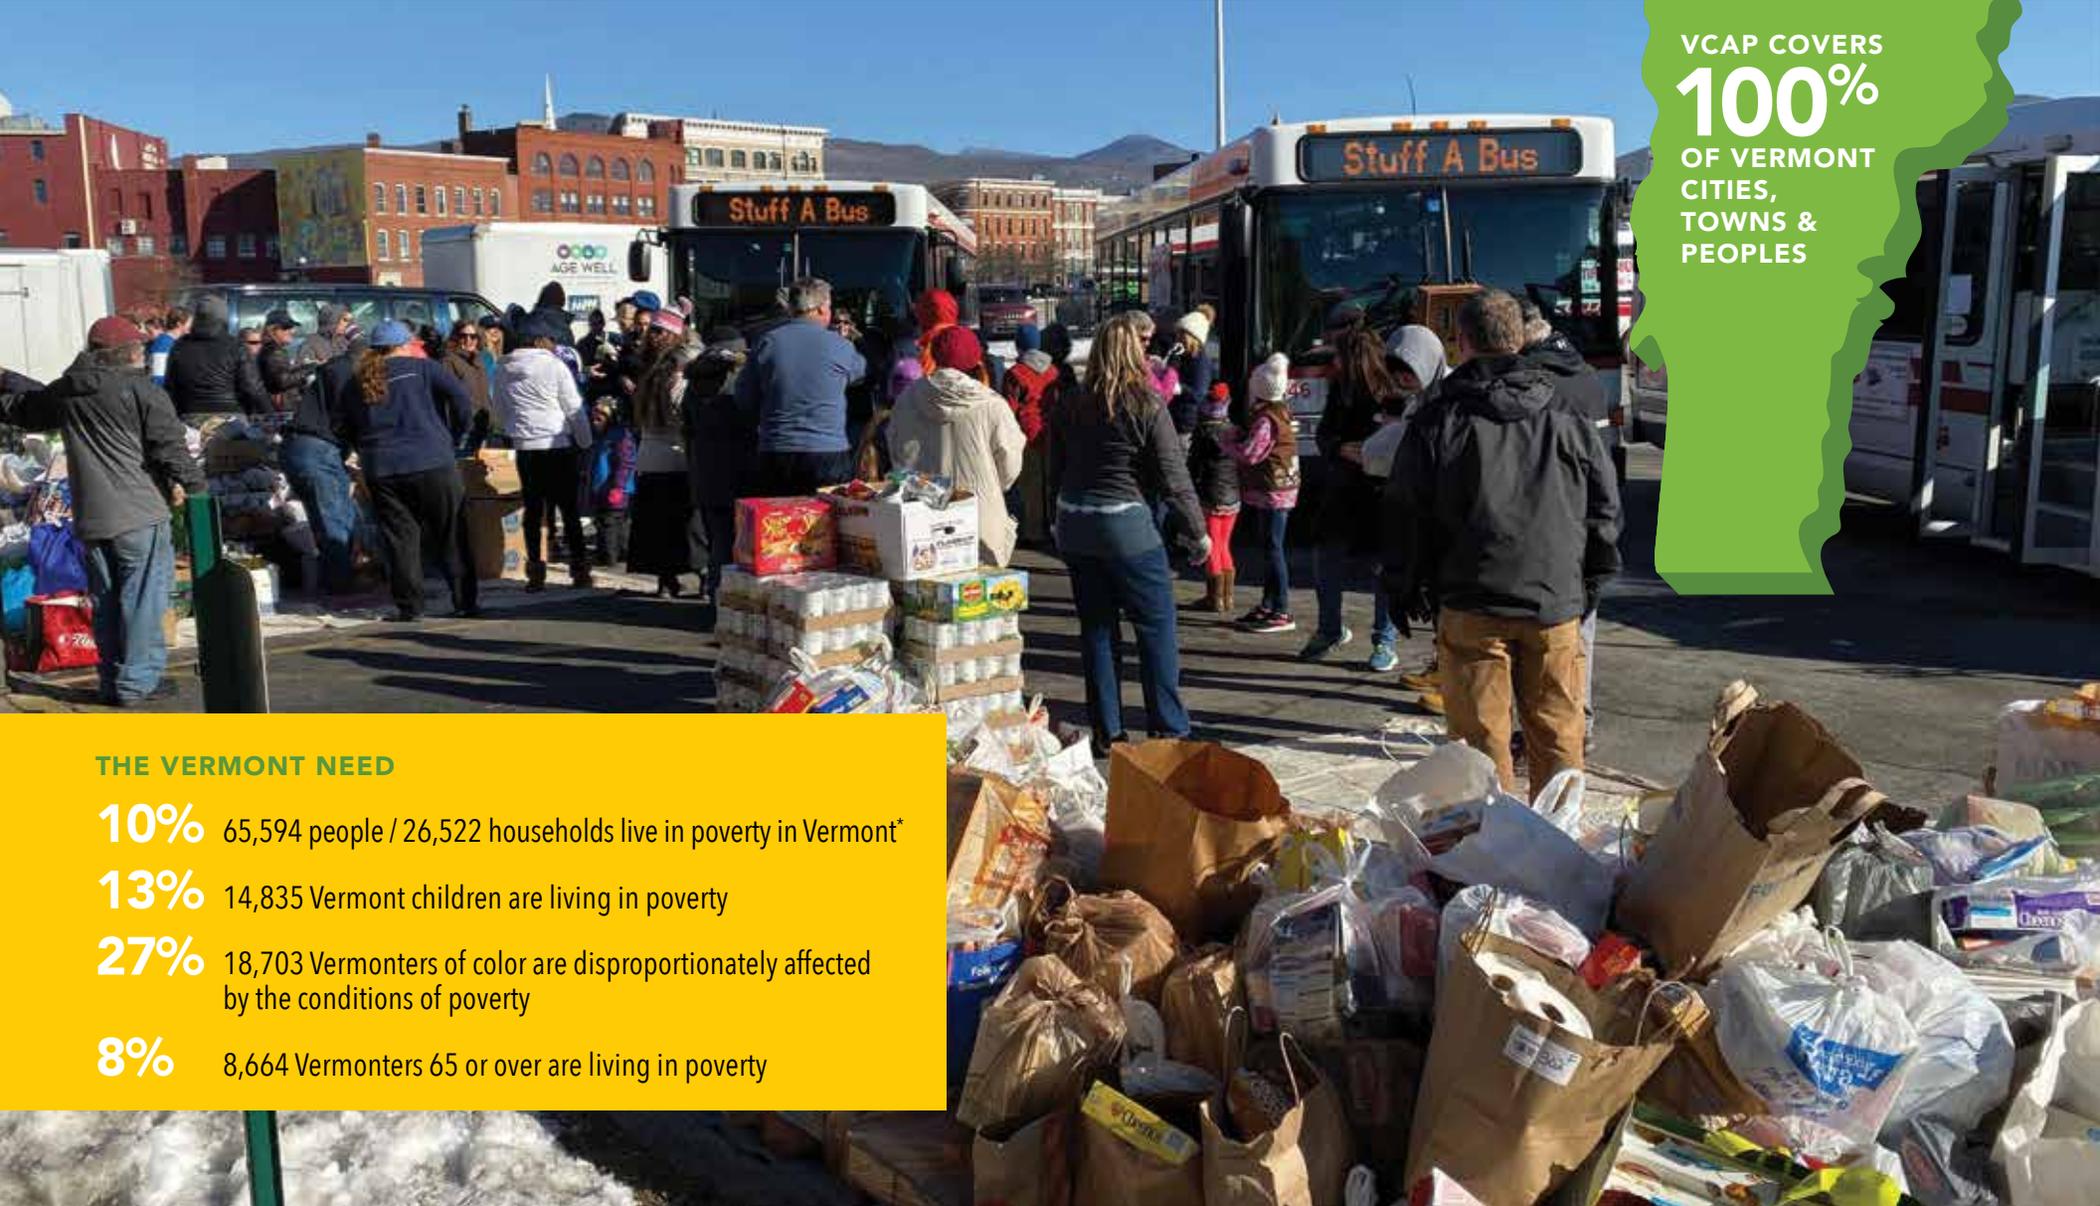

“We were there to respond to the global pandemic as it impacted Vermonters, and we’ll be there to respond to the next disaster, whether it’s a massive economic, natural, or health disaster, or a localized crisis that befalls an individual household or community. The thousands and thousands of people we’ve helped over the last half century know that we will, because they know from firsthand experience that community action speaks louder than words.”

STEVE GELLER, Executive Director, SEVCA
With over 40 years of commitment to Community Action

“Whether it is a food shelf, or the cooking class or the help with the taxes, there’s hope” PARTICIPANT

HOUSING ASSISTANCE

With an incredibly low vacancy rate in housing units in the midst of a pandemic, shelters needed to reduce beds for the safety of all staff and residents. VCAP agencies expanded services to help Vermonters both get and keep housing and to provide services onsite at hotels and motels accepting state emergency housing vouchers. Shelter was provided to Vermonters – including victims of domestic and sexual assault victims. Federal funding, the support of the Vermont Legislature and the leadership of the Vermont Office of Economic Opportunity made this possible

THE VERMONT NEED

“They made us feel as though we weren’t worthless, that we did have potential, that every little step was something to celebrate.” PARTICIPANT

Weatherization, Emergency Home Heating, Crisis Fuel, Warmth and Home Heating & Utility Assistance give Vermonters with low income, especially older Vermonters, people with disabilities and families with children the ability to save fuel and money by improving the energy efficiency of their homes. Vermonters are warmer, healthier and have more of an ability to face the ravages of a pandemic in the midst of job loss, increased isolation and cold. We are addressing climate change through Weatherization by saving one home at a time.

of annual income spent on energy costs by Vermonters with low income
