DATE: March 15, 2021

RE: Report Pursuant to Act 120 of 2020, Sec. A.51

In 2020, the Legislature and Governor Scott allocated funds from the Federal Coronavirus Relief Funds (CRF) to the School Indoor Air Quality Grant Program (the Program). The funding was made available to Vermont K-12 schools to improve the heating, ventilation, and air conditioning (HVAC) systems in their buildings, in reference to COVID-19-specific guidelines from the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the American Society of Heating, Refrigeration, and Air Conditioning Engineers (ASHRAE).

Efficiency Vermont was selected to administer the Program. Together with the Agency of Education, the Vermont Superintendents Association, the Vermont Independent Schools Association, and other stakeholders, Efficiency Vermont designed and implemented the program, resulting in indoor air quality projects at three out of every four schools across Vermont.

In accordance with Sec. A.51. (g) of Act 120, this constitutes a final report on the Program. However, we know the Legislature is considering additional funding for 2021 for this Program and would be excited to continue this important work and provide additional lessons learned if given the opportunity.

Program Overview

The process for schools to receive funding included:

- Submission of an intake form, found at www.efficiencyvermont.com/schools
- Access to comprehensive written technical guidance distilling national and state specifications for schools
- Consultation with an Energy Consultant at Efficiency Vermont to define project scope
- Identification of a contractor to complete the scope of work (Efficiency Vermont provided schools a list of contractors who self-identified to complete these projects, which can be viewed at <https://www.efficiencyvermont.com/find-contractor-retailer?provider=contractors&search=indoor-air-quality>)
- Approval of the scope of work and completion of a Subgrant Agreement between Efficiency Vermont and the school, supervisory union, or district
- Completion of the scope of work and submission of invoices to Efficiency Vermont
- Payment of the invoices, within 30 days of receipt

Funding was available for:

- HVAC improvements meeting ASHRAE and CDC COVID-19-specific guidelines for indoor air quality improvements (see sample measures below).
- All eligible project costs including, but not limited to, labor, equipment, and materials.

There was no cap on funding per school. However, every school participating in the program was eligible to receive an indoor air quality monitor and a minimum allocation of $2,500 for eligible projects and equipment. Funds were allocated based on schools' existing HVAC conditions, geographic location, and size.

Sample Project Overview

While each school's experience was unique, these are the steps that many schools went through to complete projects in 2020.

Assessment

The school hired an HVAC professional to assess condition of the existing HVAC system and complete air flow testing throughout the building. This assessment identified opportunities for improvement.

Scope of work

Using the assessment, an HVAC contractor, facilities manager, and Efficiency Vermont engineer developed a scope of work that delivered the most impact within the constraints of time and resource availability. This included upgrading existing equipment, improving building controls, creating an isolation space, and installing new filters throughout the system.

Project completion

The school hired multiple specialized HVAC and controls contractors and tradespeople to implement the approved scope of work in phases as equipment was delivered and contractors were available. Verifying completion of approved scope, school submitted invoices to Efficiency Vermont for reimbursement.

2020 Program Results

- 365 schools participated in the program (nearly 90% of all eligible schools in the state). 304 of those schools received funding for their HVAC project as well as at least one indoor air quality monitor. An additional seven schools received funding but no monitor, bringing the total number of schools that completed projects in 2020 to 311. An additional 54 schools received a monitor but no project funding. A full list of participating schools is found in the Appendix of this report, and a map of the geographic distribution of the schools is found below.
- Over 62,000 students and 6,500 teachers will now spend time in K-12 schools with improved HVAC systems.
- The projects encompassed nearly 13 million square feet of school space.
- Of the 311 schools that received direct funding, 40 schools previously had no ventilation systems. These schools can now bring fresh outside air into the building for the first time.

- The Program engaged 140 companies, including contracted engineers and tradespeople, to complete the projects at the 311 schools. Together, those companies employ hundreds of Vermonters.

Geographic Distribution

This map shows the zip code of the submitting entity, which may be the school or supervisory union. The dot size denotes the number of schools in that zip code. The dot color corresponds to the assigned staff at Efficiency Vermont and is unrelated to the details of the project.

Lessons Learned

There were several important features of the Program that enabled Efficiency Vermont and its partners to work quickly and efficiently and deliver funding to schools by the December 30th deadline. We would highly recommend these lessons be incorporated in any future work of a similar nature.

First, the Agency of Education allowed Efficiency Vermont a high degree of independence to make program decisions related to funding allocations and project scopes. Efficiency Vermont maintained close communication with the Agency of Education, the Vermont Superintendents Association, and the Vermont Independent Schools Association throughout the process, but this relative autonomy allowed the Efficiency Vermont team to make quick decisions, balancing available funding and school need.

Second, the Legislature decided that projects funded through this grant be excluded from the traditional bid requirements for schools. This decision saved valuable time and enabled schools to quickly procure resources necessary to complete larger projects. Efficiency Vermont balanced equity across schools while enabling quick decisions to move projects forward using our knowledge of standard pricing for these types of projects. Given our ongoing work in this area, Efficiency Vermont provided a level of scrutiny to bids and requested more information or changes when pricing fell outside of a typical range. We would recommend using this structure for future short-term programs of a similar nature.

Testimonials

Below are a selected set of testimonials sent to Efficiency Vermont from participating schools.

Andrew Lundeen, Director of Finance and Operations, Lamoille South Supervisory Union

"The support we received from grants and from Efficiency Vermont was extremely beneficial in both the short and long term... the process was collaborative and productive. We were able to improve indoor air quality in several school buildings through various upgrades and improvements and, if additional funds are made available, would be able to make additional HVAC improvements."

Bruce MacIntire, Director of Facilities, Addison Central Supervisory Union

"This is by far the easiest grant program we've ever participated in. The process was streamlined so we were able to get our vendors into our buildings and doing the work quickly. The biggest benefit is peace of mind for teachers and families. I can now show that rooms they or their children are in have proper ventilation and filtration. We still have six buildings that need more than we could tackle in last year's program. Ensuring proper ventilation in every room is the priority."

Bill Anton, Superintendent, Windham Central Supervisory Union

"Efficiency Vermont walked us through a somewhat complex process in a very uncomplex manner...Our district received financial support for tangible assets that will benefit our communities into the future. Along with those tangible assets, we received knowledge about doing ongoing maintenance to maintain the investments. Long story short: Efficiency Vermont deployed a plan...to benefit our students and communities for years to come."

Marc Brown, Facilities Manager, Kingdom East School District

"Because of the ventilation funding Kingdom East School District was able to either update or install new ventilation systems in 4 out of 7 of our schools to assure the facilities were safe to use. These projects were fast tracked but with the help of the staff at Efficiency VT we were able to complete all 4 projects on time and within budget. Without this funding and the excellent support of Efficiency VT we would not be having in person learning in some of our schools.”
