

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Heavy Equipment Operator

Employers Post A Job

Truck Driver

Carpenter

Road Builder

Electrician

Carpenter Helper

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

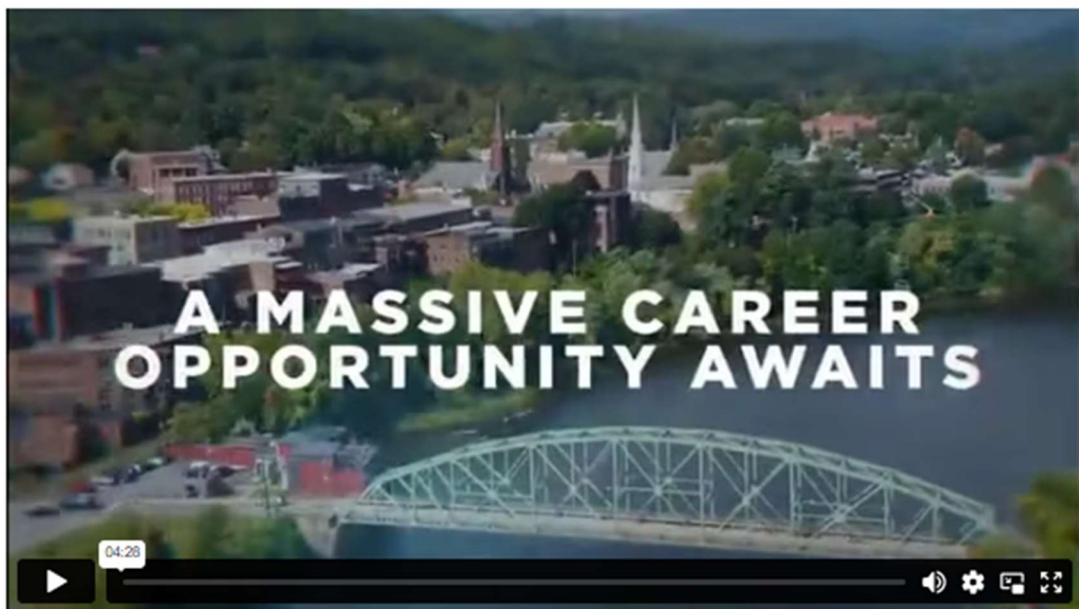

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Employers Post A Job

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

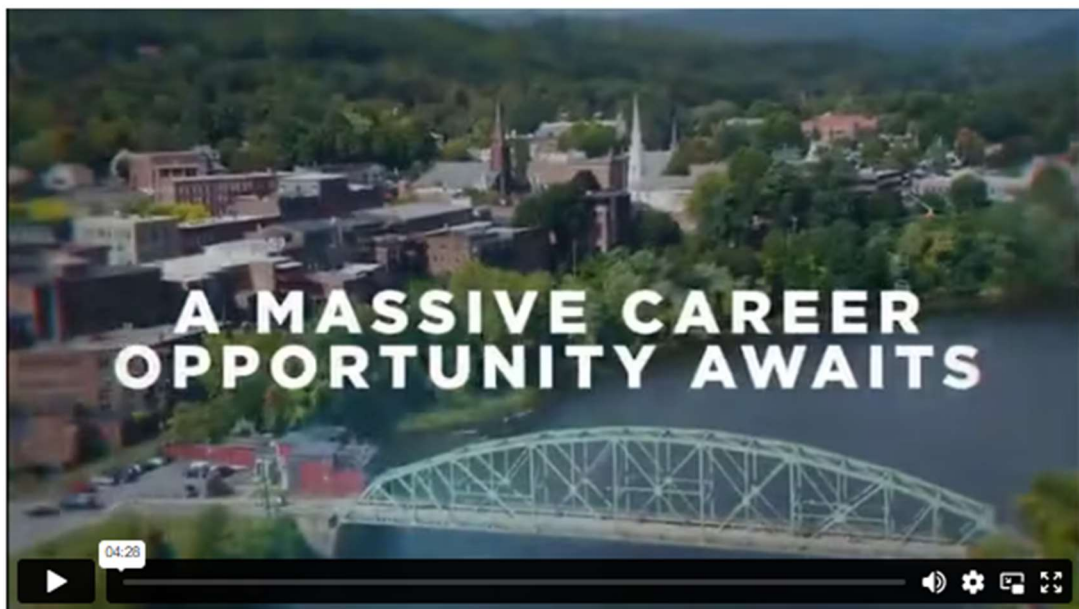

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Heavy Equipment Operator

Employers Post A Job

Truck Driver

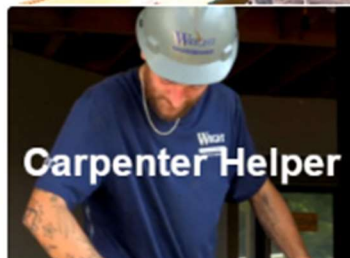

Carpenter

Road Builder

Electrician

Carpenter Helper

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

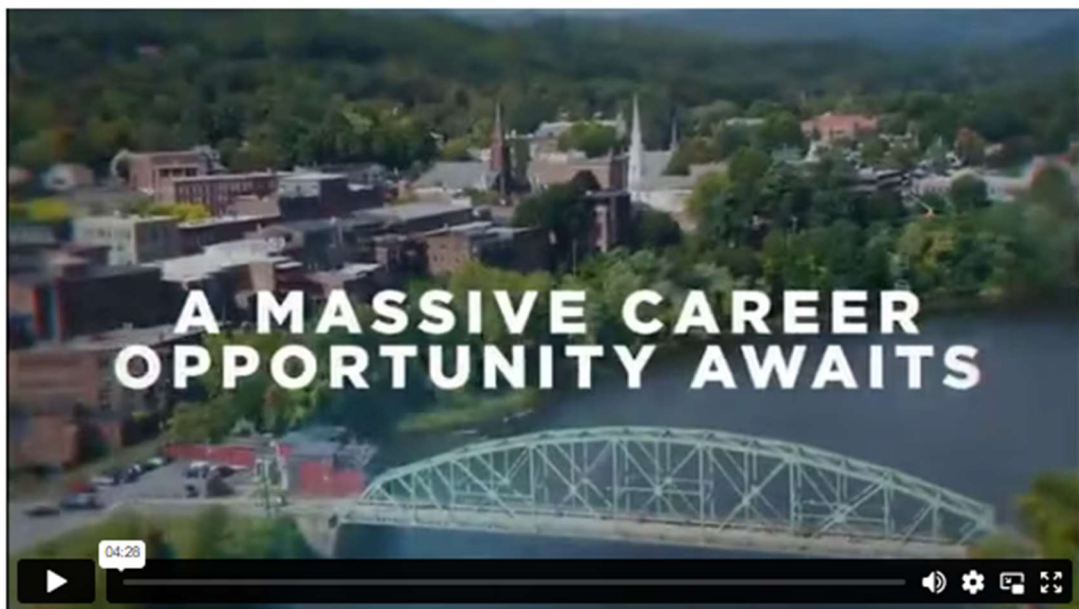

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Employers Post A Job

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

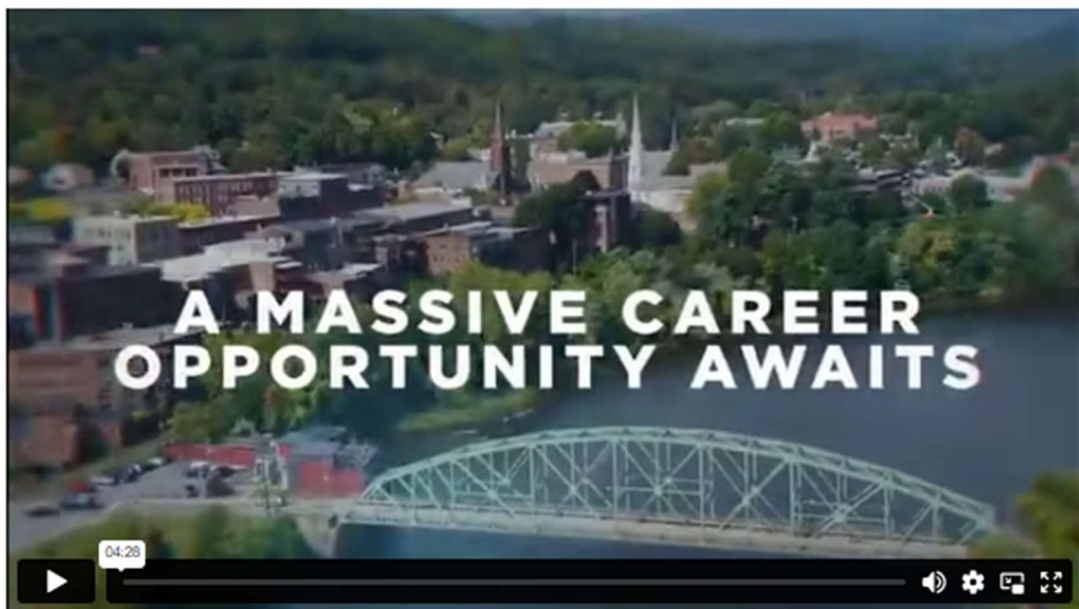

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Employers Post A Job

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

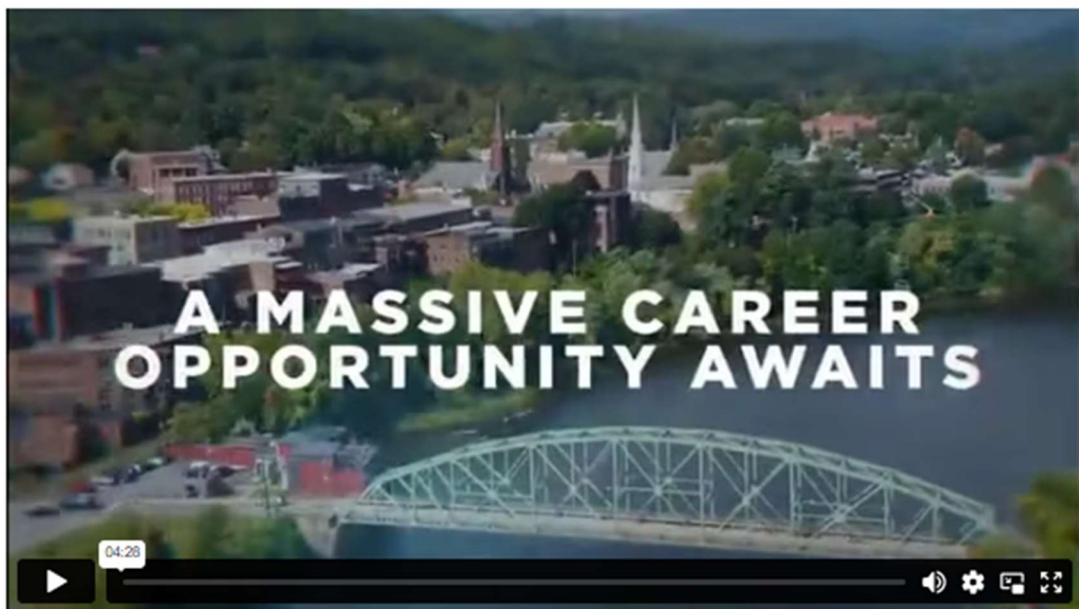

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Heavy Equipment Operator

Road Builder

Employers Post A Job

Truck Driver

Carpenter

Electrician

Carpenter Helper

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

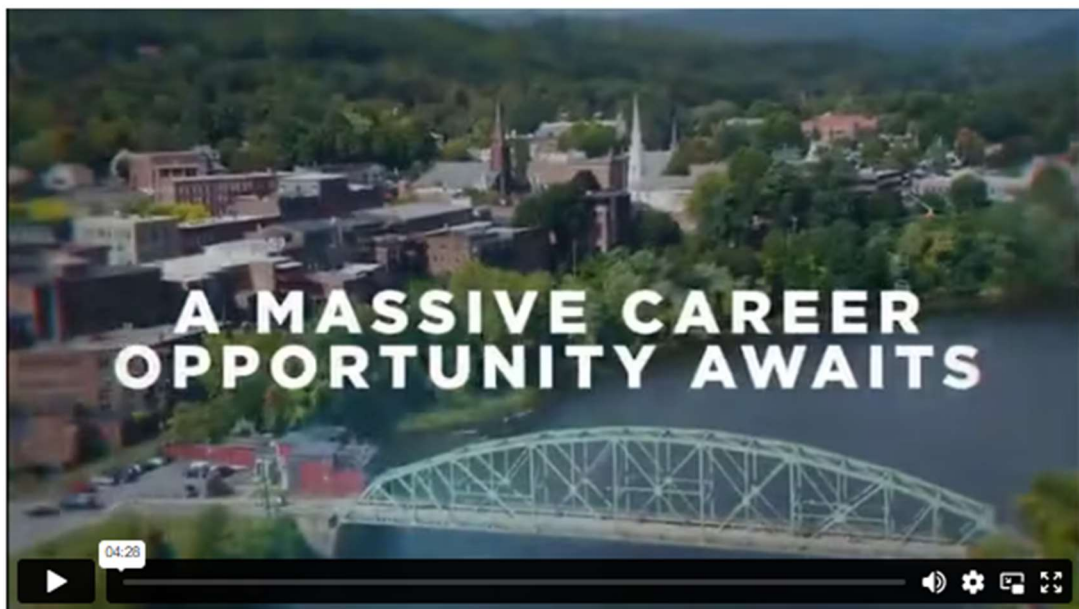

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Heavy Equipment Operator

Employers Post A Job

Truck Driver

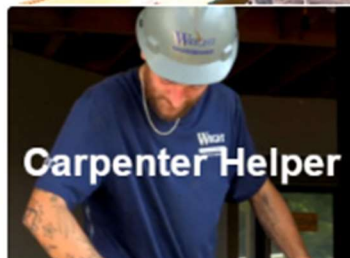

Carpenter

Road Builder

Electrician

Carpenter Helper

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

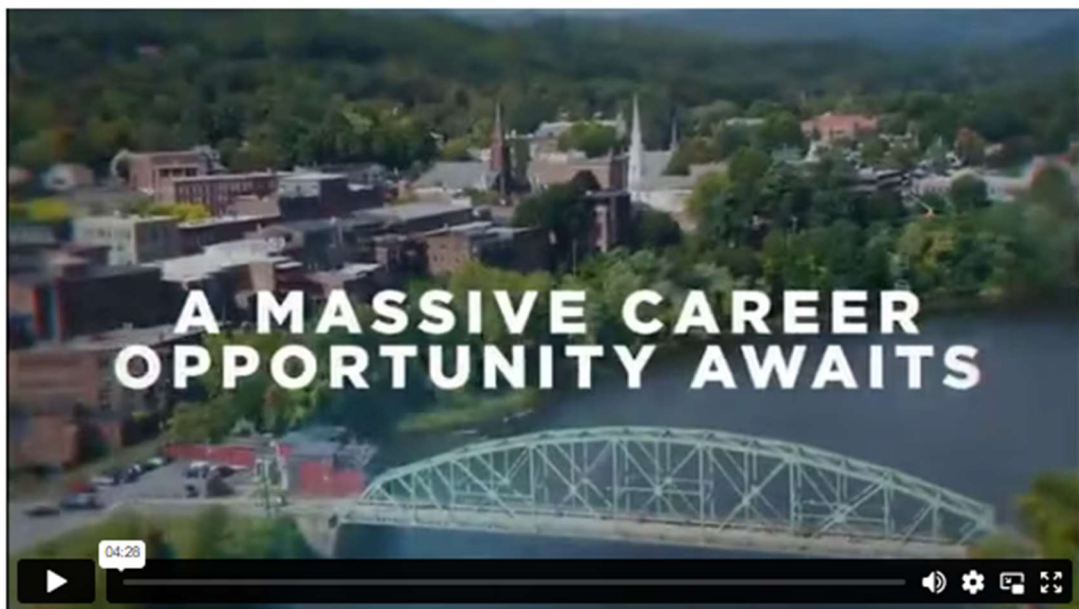

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Employers Post A Job

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

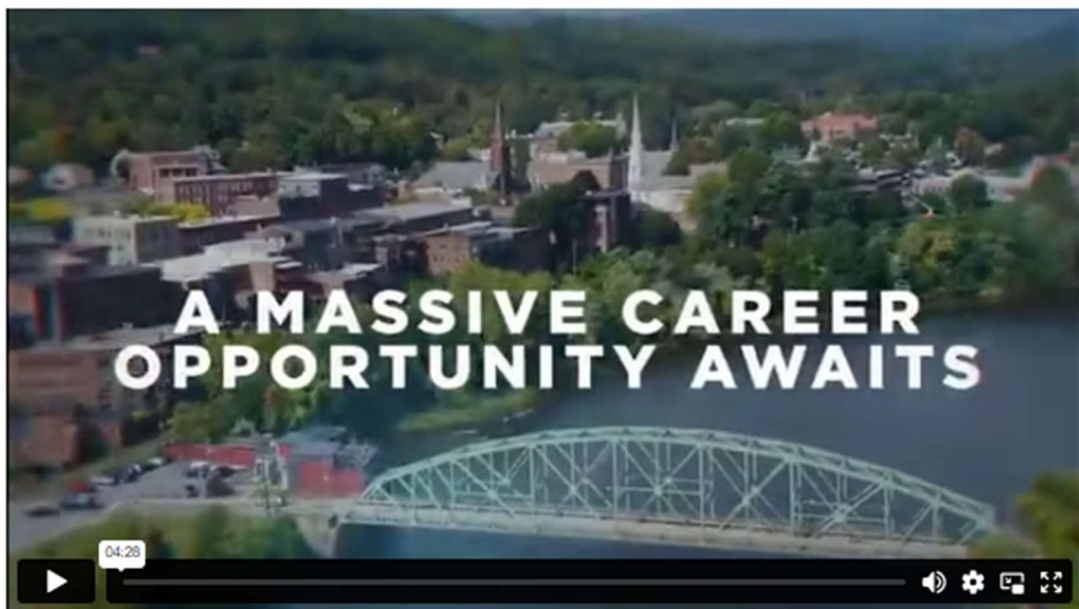

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Employers Post A Job

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

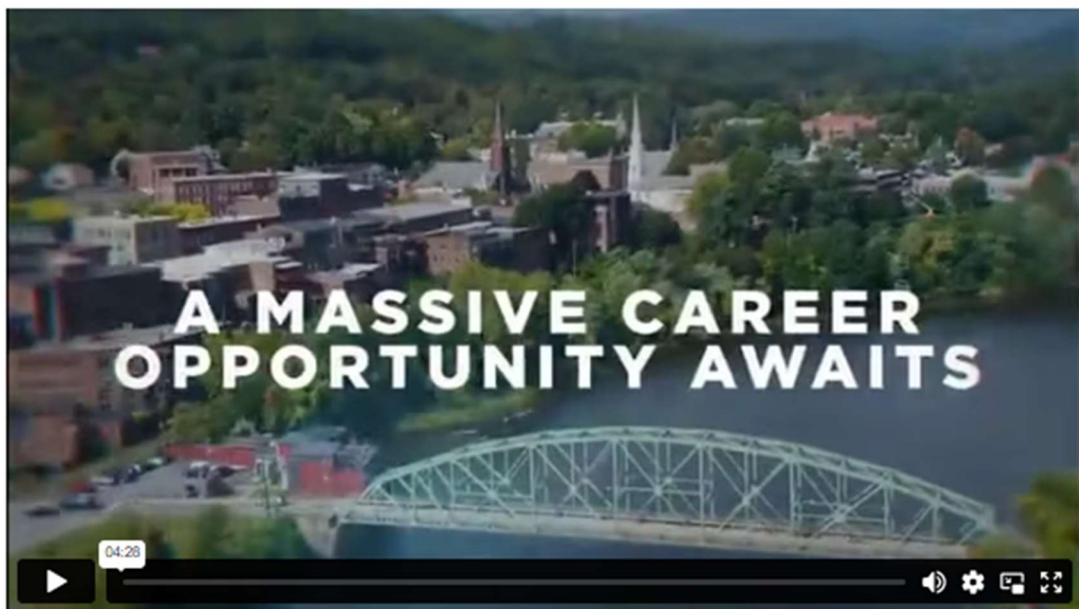

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Employers Post A Job

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

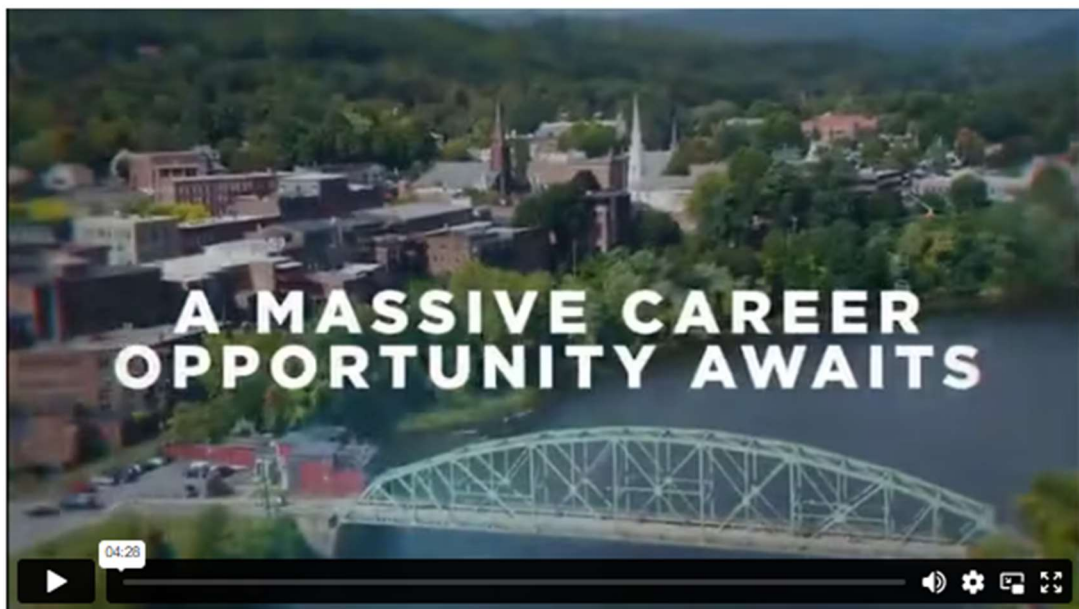

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Employers Post A Job

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

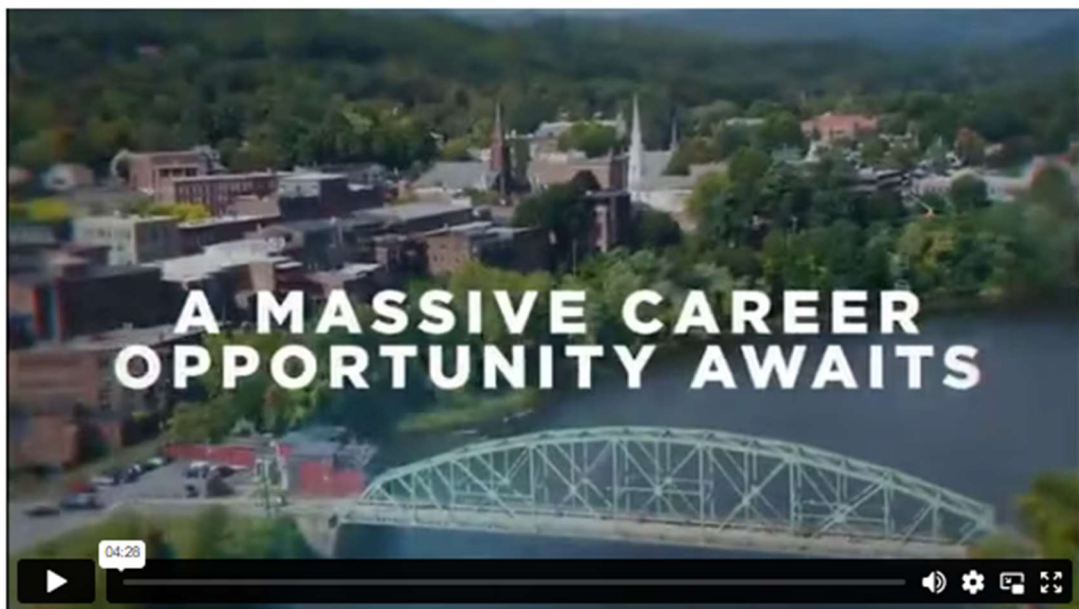

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Employers Post A Job

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

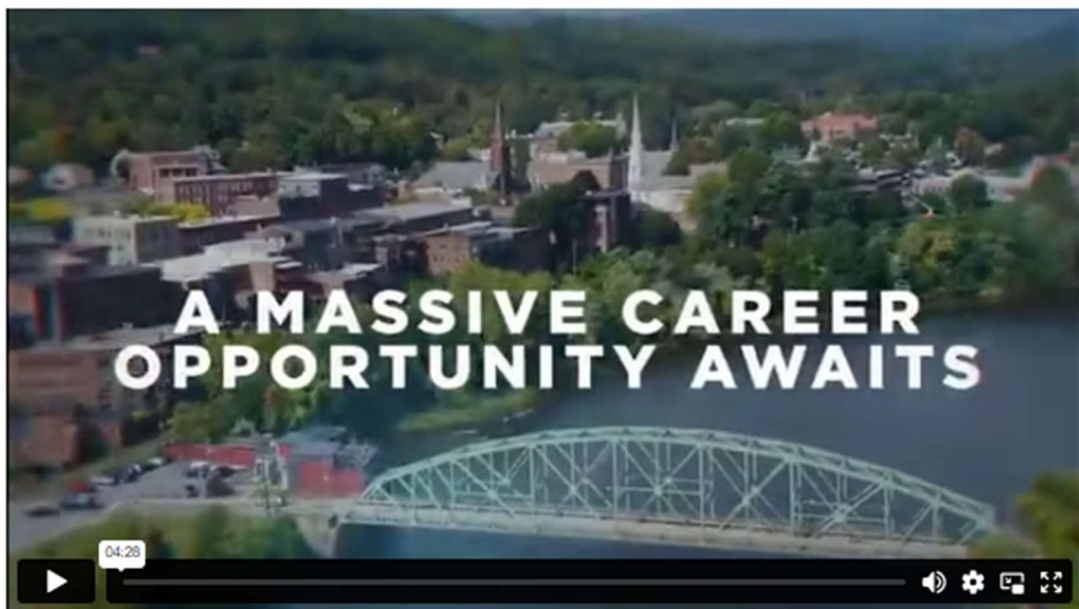

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School

Vermont Construction Jobs

Explore the wide variety of Vermont construction careers. With opportunities ranging from construction careers to tech jobs to crafts focused work on artistry — you can find your perfect fit in the industry. Click any of the job positions below to learn about in-demand Vermont construction careers, their salaries, benefits and education requirements.

Check Out Our Visit With Maine Cabin Masters

Job Seekers

Heavy Equipment Operator

Employers Post A Job

Truck Driver

Carpenter

Road Builder

Electrician

Carpenter Helper

Dump Truck Driver/CDL Driver

SEARCH CONSTRUCTION CAREERS

Truck drivers work with excavator and loader operators to move materials or paving crews that build roads.

MORE ABOUT THIS CAREER

Truck drivers are an important part of the construction industry, keep our highway system running and are in high demand.

Interests

Do you want to transform the shape of the earth?

Do you see yourself driving a big rig?

Do you like working outside?

Skills You'll Develop

- You will learn to operate some of the most powerful trucks on the road, backing up only using mirrors
- You can also operate other types of equipment including a backhoe, loader or even excavator
- You will also conduct regular maintenance on heavy equipment
- You will interact with construction general laborers and/or crew members who are facilitating alignment, movement and adjustment of the equipment to complete conformation of grade specifications for the construction project.

AVERAGE WAGE

$45,000	$22.00
Salary	Hourly

Education Options:

- On the job training
- High School Diploma
- Technical School