

Vermont's funding for fish hatcheries are funds that return and perform well to pay the state. The revenue generated and public trust thru the department of fish and wildlife, enhance Vermont. It's terrific family recreation for locals and visitors. Our large per capita participation with licence fees and angling expenditures are ranked high nationally. Closing Salisbury makes no sense when hatchery funding proves to help our wobbling economy and ecosystem to be healthier. This connection to our waterways is beneficial toward water quality and watershed ecology solutions. Tom Schmidt Westford VT
