

Mike Desrochers, Director of DFS, sent a couple of corrections to my comments in today's meeting:

"Sir- We use the International Building Code [commercial building code] for 3 units or more regardless of height... [T]he only structures that we do not have a building code for are 1 and 2 family dwellings. Anything beyond a duplex we enforce the International Building Code (IBC).... Just wanted to pass this on as H.181 has inaccurate language around this." [slightly edited for clarity]

I think that's everything...
