

I agree with this statement, and DO NOT WANT TO PAY an opt-out tax on my meter. Plus. there are too many charges on my bill already.

"We all know this is an equity issue - if someone is opting out for legitimate health concerns, they will need to pay. Those who financially struggle will have trouble opting out with the charge in place. You should not have to be wealthy to be able to afford to say NO to a technology device on your home emitting RF radiation and placing private data from your home and your electricity at risk.

There are known harms and risks with this RF radiation exposure and it should not be forced on people. No one should be forced to pay if they reject this tech due to these health risks and cybersecurity issues."

Respectfully,

Nino Abbott
Milton, Vermont

YOU ARE A SOUL having a human experience. And it's all just an illusion... a 'waking dream'.