Vermont Department of Fish and Wildlife

Mission Statement

The mission of the Vermont Fish and Wildlife Department (FWD) is the conservation of fish, wildlife, plants, and their habitats for the people of Vermont.

Description of Divisions, Appropriations, and Programs

The major components of the Department of Fish and Wildlife are:

Administration Division

The Administration Division provides policy, planning, personnel, and financial management for the Department. It oversees the production, distribution, and sales of all hunting and fishing licenses and over fifteen types of other permits related to resource protection. The Division is also responsible for managing more than $9 million annually in federal grant dollars, ensuring the funds are spent appropriately and that all reporting requirements are met.

Wildlife Division

The Wildlife Division is responsible for the conservation and management of wildlife, plants, and their habitat throughout Vermont. Wildlife Division staff continue to address a wide variety of issues including the management of the deer and moose herds; growing conflicts between black bears and humans; habitat conservation challenges associated with migratory birds including the loss of habitat for both grassland and high-elevation montane forest bird species; growing challenges associated with diseases in wildlife including west Nile virus, avian influenza, and chronic wasting disease; preventing habitat and biodiversity loss, as well as supporting the protection and recovery of threatened and endangered amphibians, reptiles, and plants.

Wildlife Division staff manage over 135,000 acres of land on over 100 Wildlife Management Areas, in addition to working with Department of Forest, Parks and Recreation to manage state forests. Division staff continue to support the acquisition and restoration of land for wildlife conservation and public access for wildlife-related recreation. This work also includes the management of infrastructure to enable safe, enjoyable public access. The needs and costs for managing these lands continues to increase while staff capacity remains level. Division staff continue to advance land use planning efforts with Vermont municipalities and regional planning commissions and provide technical assistance for habitat management to private landowners.

Additionally, there are growing pressures and needs to develop and implement recovery plans for species on the state's threatened and endangered species list. The Division continues to coordinate the development of the Wildlife Action Plan that is required by federal law through the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and is necessary to ensure continued federal funding for the Division's work.

Conservation challenges related to development and climate change continue to grow the responsibilities of the Wildlife Division while funding and capacity remain relatively stagnant.

Fish Division

The Fish Division is responsible for the conservation and management of fish and their aquatic habitats throughout Vermont. Division staff are engaged in a wide variety of activities, including: monitoring populations of sport and endangered fish species and their habitats; cooperating in the research, management, and restoration of fish communities across the state; operating fish hatcheries that rear and stock trout, salmon, and walleye annually for recreational and restoration purposes; maintaining more than 190 developed fishing access areas, in addition to a variety of riparian lands, which provide public access to waters of the state; monitoring fish health; regulating fish importation; controlling aquatic nuisance species such as the round goby and sea lamprey in Lake Champlain; evaluating current fishing harvest regulations and preparing new recommendations for a variety of species; participating in the protection of aquatic species and critical aquatic habitat through regulatory processes; providing technical assistance; and preparing educational materials. The work of the Fish Division to ensure vibrant and healthy fish populations contributes to the overall economy of the state.

Warden Service Division

The Warden Service Division is an integral part of fish and wildlife conservation and management. The Division's primary duty is to enforce Vermont's fish and wildlife laws and regulations. Fish and wildlife species are held in the 'public trust' and Division staff enforce laws related to the protection of these resources for the benefit of all Vermonters. The Division provides responses to individual requests for Department assistance involving fish and wildlife resources and conflicts. The Division also assists the Vermont State Police in animal cruelty responses, search and rescue operations, and many other law enforcement services provided to residents by State and local law enforcement agencies.

The Warden Service Division continues to perform their functions of enforcing hunting, trapping and fishing laws while also responding to hundreds of human/bear conflicts. In addition, the Warden Service has assumed the lead role in recreational boating safety (RBS) program over the past several years, including enforcement as well as education, and animal cruelty investigations. Wardens have also taken over snowmobile and ATV enforcement over the past several years and the Division now handles nearly all of the accident investigations on the trail systems. Wardens also assist Vermont State Police (VSP) with crime scene reconstruction and evidence recovery, providing equipment, and specially trained K-9s. The Warden Service Division also assists with search and rescue on a regular basis and handles various calls for VSP as needed; this assistance is varied and depends on other available resources.

Outreach Division

The Outreach Division is responsible for the informational and formal educational programs of the Fish and Wildlife Department. In addition to producing the Department website, social media content, and press releases, Outreach staff create formal publications like the annual hunting and fishing law guides, newsletters, and a calendar, incorporating many photos and videos created by Outreach staff in these publications. Also, this staff coordinates with local and national press outlets, manages social media posts on the Department sites, and monitors the accounts of others to gauge the general atmosphere regarding the many topics impacting the Department. Outreach campaigns are issued to meet public need, promote the department work and brand, and develop department funding mechanisms like license and lottery sales, the Habitat Stamp, Nongame Wildlife Fund, and GMCC Endowment Fund.

The Outreach team also administers conservation education throughout Vermont for youth and adults. These programs include the Hunter Education certification program, formal and nonformal wildlife curriculum development through Project WILD, aquatic resource education in Let's Go Fishing, a variety of school programs, and adult learning opportunities. All of these conservation education programs are free for participants. Outreach team members attend, help, or lead the planning of special events such as the Yankee Sportsman Classic, Vermont Flower Show, Dead Creek Wildlife Day, Women Can Do Conference, local farmers markets, and more.

Lastly, Outreach staff administers the Green Mountain Conservation Camp (GMCC) program held in Woodbury at Buck Lake Camp and Castleton at Edward F. Kehoe Camp. GMCC is an overnight camp that includes six days and five nights. Conservation education and outdoor skills are the focus at each camp, and the program's goal is to cultivate a caring attitude among our youth for Vermont's fish and wildlife resources.

The chart on the following page summarizes the SFY 2026 Vermont Fish & Wildlife department budget by division.

FY2026 Overview of Fish & Wildlife Divisions

Fish and Wildlife Summary of Budget Changes – SFY2026

The Department of Fish and Wildlife presents the State Fiscal Year 2026 (SFY26) budget, totaling $31,298,677, which reflects an overall net increase of $1,004,672 compared to SFY25. The budget gap facing the Department budget is due to increasing expenditures and stagnant-to-declining revenue sources; license funds receipts are expected to decline by nearly $200,000, motor fuel receipts will be reduced by $30,000 to match actuals over the past few years, and timber sale receipts have been reduced by $73,000 due to staff capacity and lack of long range management plans that guide the timber sale process. Federal Pittman-Robertson funds have been increased in SFY26 but the national trend for those receipts is declining and the Department expects to receive less federal funds from this source in the near future.

The Department budget includes a 11.7% general fund increase ($974,710). There is also a general fund increase of $140,188 as a transfer of funds from the ANR Secretary's Office which was made to soften the impact of the significant budget challenges facing the Department; this is a net zero agency adjustment. The Department has leveraged all federal and special funds to the extent possible.

In SFY26 the Department intends to utilize Fish and Wildlife Trust Fund receipts. This fund was created in 1995 and intended to provide the opportunity for Vermonters to invest in the future of its fish and wildlife resources, with the primary funding source being the receipts from sales of lifetime licenses. As required by statute, the principal shall remain in the trust fund in perpetuity, and only the interest from the fund can be spent. Any fish and wildlife related expenses are eligible from this fund. The program has gained popularity each year and now nearly one out of every five children born in Vermont has a lifetime license. To have a sustainable lifetime license program, revenues need to be deposited in an interest-bearing account and the Department must only expend license revenue in a manner that the value is equal to or greater than zero at the end of a statistical life of use. These recommendations require the Department to calculate the estimated revenue generated by lifetime license holders and to use no more than that amount in a single year. Unfortunately, the Department used Trust Fund revenue prematurely in 2012 and has been waiting for the interest balance to recover enough to be able to draw from the fund sustainably. By SFY26 the Trust Fund will have an interest balance sufficient to cover an expenditure equal to revenue losses from lifetime license holder participation, or $225,000, and provided interest rates remain steady, funds will be available to draw into the future.

Key Budget Issues by Division:

Administration:

The budget for the Administration Division includes large Department-wide cost such as internal service fees, office space leases, PILOT (payment in lieu of taxes) payments and ADS cost. There are small net operating changes due to an increase in the lease at National Life and costs for legal services and a small grant change due to expected usage of special funds for habitat work. Larger cost increases for internal service funds and ADS service level agreement charges are included. There is a $56,000 GF increase that will be agency net-zero. After the July 2023 storm and flooding of the Annex storage building in Berlin, the Department secured a new storage space in East Barre. The $56,000 cost of the new lease will be transferred from the ANR Secretary's Office budget.

Warden Service:

The Warden Service is holding open one Warden position for the whole of FY26 to generate vacancy savings and stay within the limits of the SFY26. The Division has also eliminated $175,000 toward the cost of dispatch from Department of Public Safety (DPS). The associated revenue has also been removed from the DPS budget.

Wildlife:

In SFY25, as part of the proposal to close the Salisbury fish culture station, the Department reallocated three positions from Fish Culture to the Wildlife Division to do important work funded with federal and dedicated funds. With the Legislature providing funding for Salisbury's operations in SFY25, the three positions were not reallocated and have been removed from the Wildlife Division's FY26 budget.

The Wildlife Division vacancy savings target has been adjusted to reflect the higher cost of a pay grade 24 position for 3 months.

Fish Division:

The Fish Division will reallocate the vacant Salisbury Fish Culture Station supervisor position to an Assistant Land Acquisition Coordinator (LAC). The LAC position will utilize dedicated funding to focus on land conservation projects in both the fish and wildlife divisions, including wetland conservation and restoration initiatives in the Lake Champlain and Lake Memphremagog basins.

Temporary employee costs in the Fish Division will increase by $30,989 in SFY26. As salary rates have increased over the past few years, the Fish Division temporary budget has not followed suit. This increase represents the same number of temporary employees at their appropriate rates of pay plus state share of taxes. The access area program within the Fish Division will eliminate a temporary position that is no longer needed, creating a $25,000 savings. The vacancy savings target has been adjusted to reflect the higher cost of a pay grade 24 position for 3 months.

Outreach Division:

Approximately 900 youth receive education in wildlife and fisheries management, ecology, forestry, angling, camping, and hunter education each summer at GMCC. Camp tuition is established by the Fish & Wildlife Commissioner according to 10 V.S.A. § 4132(e) and the current fee is $250 per camper, last set in 2012. The Department proposes to increase the fee to $300 per camper. The new rate remains well below the average cost of an overnight camp experience in Vermont, and the Department will use the additional revenue to pay for salary increases for seasonal staff that run the camps. A pay grade increase for camp staff is necessary to address recruitment challenges and increased operating costs.

Outreach expects the retirement of a long-term temporary employee prior to SFY26 and does not intend to rehire, thus recognizing a $10K budget reduction.

Additional Pressures to the Base Budget:

The Department has reached a point where revenues cannot keep pace with the significant increases in salary and benefits over the past couple of years. Directors have reallocated positions to shift costs to dedicated and available funding, cut operating costs substantially, and introduced new or increased revenue where possible.

The Department recognizes that the current budget situation will not improve without thoughtful consideration of financial restructuring and potentially significant programmatic changes that balance workload and sustainable funding to provide the same.
