

- SHORT

- Version 1

- Michelle Hager has over 20 years' experience in Healthcare IT and is the Managing Partner at Blue Cirrus Consulting. For the past 6 years, she has dedicated her efforts to the development of IT strategies for healthcare organizations, including Intermountain Healthcare, Adventist Health, Greenville Health System and Palmetto Health. She is active in HIMSS where she has held roles as the South Carolina Chapter President, Vice-Chair-Public Policy and Chapter Advocate. She has worked diligently through HIMSS to educate the industry and the public on Healthcare IT public policy and future IT strategic directions, including IT policy. Michelle was inducted into the American Telemedicine Association College of Fellows in 2022 in recognition of her distinguished and valuable contributions and service to telemedicine and has been named one of 2023/2024 "Top Women In Health IT To Know" by Becker's Hospital Review.

- Version 2

- Michelle Hager, the Managing Partner at Blue Cirrus Consulting, has over 20 years' experience in Healthcare IT. She's dedicated her efforts to the development of IT strategies for healthcare organizations across the country. She is active in HIMSS, holding roles as the South Carolina Chapter President, Vice-Chair-Public Policy, and Chapter Advocate. She's worked diligently through HIMSS to educate the industry and public on Healthcare IT public policy and future IT strategic directions, including IT policy. Michelle was inducted into the American Telemedicine Association College of Fellows in 2022 in recognition of her distinguished and valuable contributions and service to telemedicine and has been named one of 2023/2024 "Top Women In Health IT To Know" by Becker's Hospital Review.

- MEDIUM

- Michelle Hager is the Managing Partner at Blue Cirrus Consulting. After obtaining her Bachelors in Information Studies from Florida State University, she has spent the past 20 years focusing on Healthcare IT. Her past experience includes 12 years at Tallahassee Memorial Hospital, 7 years at McKesson Corporation focusing on managed services and Director of Education in the United States, United Kingdom, France and the Netherlands. Michelle has vast experience in healthcare consulting and management services first with a national consulting firm and for the past 6 years with her own Management Consulting Firm. Michelle is very active in HIMSS where she has held roles in the South Carolina Chapter as President, Vice-Chair-Eastern Region-Public Policy and Chapter Advocate. She has worked diligently throughout her 8+ years with HIMSS to educate the industry and the public on healthcare and Healthcare IT public policy and future IT strategic directions. Michelle was inducted into the American Telemedicine Association College of Fellows in 2022 in recognition of her distinguished and valuable contributions and service to telemedicine and has been named one of 2023/2024s "Top Women In Health IT To Know" by Becker's Hospital Review.

- LONG

- Michelle has over 20 years working in healthcare information technology working in clinical service before taking on roles in hospital IT leadership, software vendor senior management, and consulting executive leadership. Her career began with a focus in Pharmacy and after obtaining her Bachelors in Information Studies from Florida State University. Michelle spent 12 years in Information Technology at Tallahassee Memorial Healthcare. She then joined a Fortune 500 EHR corporation where her career spanned 7 years working in the United States, United Kingdom, France, and the Netherlands in senior leadership roles. After her international work, Michelle joined a Healthcare IT consulting firm as the National Practice Director managing consultants, clients, and the sales team in balancing priorities, managing budgets, and operations. In 2010 she started Blue Cirrus Consulting and continues to use her leadership capabilities and experience in business development, operations, and customer relations to partner with clients and consultants to provide the absolute best service. She speaks often at various professional conferences such as HIMSS, SCHIMSS, GAHIMSS, American Association of Pharmacy Technicians, American Telemedicine Association and the American Society of Health System Pharmacists. She is passionate about the importance of clinical workflow, IT leadership, strategy, public policy and medication safety. Michelle is very active in HIMSS as the past-President of South Carolina HIMSS Chapter, former Vice-Chair for the Eastern Region on Public Policy. She has worked diligently throughout her years with HIMSS to educate the industry and the public on healthcare and Healthcare IT public policy and future IT strategic directions. Michelle was inducted into the American Telemedicine Association College of Fellows in 2022 in recognition of her distinguished and valuable contributions and service to telemedicine and has been named "Top Women In Health IT To Know" in 2023/2024 by Becker's Hospital Review.