

Address the inequities in license fees.

Create direct to consumer sales for cultivators.

No sale of licenses of any kind.

If there is going to be a moratorium on retail licenses, there should also be a moratorium on new cultivation licenses. All indoor cultivation licenses above Tier 2 should be retracted to conform into a tier one or Tier 2 indoor license.

Outdoor growers should be able to use farm labor with no ID card necessary Background checks, one initial background check when applying for your license the first time. FBI background checks for personal use can be used by everyone.

Cultivators can apply for an add-on endorsement for manufacturing, processing and retail sales.

Licensed cannabis cultivators should be able to purchase a special event license from the CCB that allows them to sell direct to consumers. A cannabis cultivator special event license would be good for one 24 hour period and the cultivator may purchase up to two consecutive special event retail licenses to hold events of not more than two days. A cultivator must present the CCB with a plan on how they will track sales, collect appropriate taxes and provide security for their special event. Events will be held on property owned and controlled by a licensed cannabis cultivator and may include up to four additional licensed cannabis cultivators. Events may be held on public property with the approval of the CCB and the municipality in which the public property lies.
