

I have a concern I have not seen discussed elsewhere. The incident went on all day because ICE had to get a warrant to be able to enter the house in question. To get a warrant, an ICE agent had to testify truthfully. Courts across the country are decrying the untruths told by ICE agents under oath. How can we trust a warrant based solely on the testimony of ICE agents who have shown a willingness to lie under oath?

Our police officers accepted that warrant and acted accordingly. What recourse do we have?

Barbie Alsop