

I'm a native Vermonter and would encourage you to do away with the inspection program! I'm a victim , my story is when I took my 2 yr old , bought new , 2021 Honda Ridgeline into my dealer where I brought the truck for a free state inspection I was failed due to rust on my rear rotors ! The truck only had 8000 miles, not failed due to wear but surface rust! They wanted a tone of money because all had to be replaced! I said no, no way ! I had the work done at my local shop because it was cheaper and local guy. Once they scan your vehicle id into the state computer system and they fail you for anything you must have it repaired because it can't be cleared from system and anyone inspecting it must do the work ! I'm 71 and always get my vehicles inspected because it's the law but most states are doing away with it! Vermont must do away with it too! Don't do the every other year thing either cause that won't work either! Thanks for reading Paul Martelle
